CRASH LEAVES INFANT AT HOME MOTHERLESS

Coroner's Jury Declares Local Death Accidental Following Testimony

Miss Alberta O'Brien, 28, of Los Angeles, was fatally injured early today when a sedan, containing two couples on their way to Escondido for a holiday outing, overturned on a spot of fog-washed boulevard between Irvine and San Juan Capistrano. Miss O'Brien died while being removed to a hospital in this city.

Other members of the party, including R. J. Lucas, driver, J. F. Williams and Miss Dollie Martin, 25, were unhurt. All four resided at the Baltic apartments, 1127 Orange street, Los Angeles. Williams is a lieutenant and acting captain of detectives in the Los Angeles police department. Lucas is also said to be a detective.

According to statements made by Lucas and Williams at the coroner's inquest today, the two detectives and their women companions were on their way to Williams' ranch at Escondido for a hunting trip when the accident took place at 3:30 a. m. in a car following them were Mr. and Mrs. David Ford, also residents of the Baltic apartments. Owing to motor trouble developed by Ford's car, the machines were proceeding slowly.

Where the boulevard traverses rolling hills southeast of Irvine they found the road alternately wet and dry where the fog had brushed the hill tops, they said. On one of these hill tops, where the road turned, Lucas's car skidded on the wet paving and went off the road to the left side, turning on its side.

Lucas, a large heavy man, was hurled through the door, taking the door with him. Miss O'Brien, who was seated beside him, was thrown through the same opening a distance of about ten feet. When picked up by other members of the party she was unconscious, but almost immediately revived, they said.

In Ford's car she was rushed to San Juan Capistrano, where a nurse was found, and a physician was summoned from Santa Ana. The physician ordered the injured girl to be taken to the Community hospital here. An ambulance started with her for the hospital, but she died before reaching there. Death was said to have been caused by a hemorrhage of the stomach.

Coroner Charles D. Brown conducted an inquest in the Winbigler undertaking establishment at 8:30 a. m. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death after hearing the testimony of the two detectives. According to the testimony of Williams, Miss O'Brien has been married and leaves a son about 3 years old. Her mother also resides in Los Angeles, he said. Miss O'Brien lived with Miss Martin.

$68,000 Fee Paid Attorneys In Reclamation Case Under Probe

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 10.—Charges and countercharges came in quick succession today as a result of the action of the state reclamation board in repudiating a $160,000 claim of reclamation district 1001 on the ground that the trustees of the district had paid C. F. Metteer, Sacramento attorney and Peter R. Gadd, local engineer, $68,000 to carry on the fight for recovery of the money due the district.

In answer to the charges of the reclamation board that the fee was "altogether exorbitant and unreasonable" Gadd replied that the payment which he and Attorney Metteer received was in reclamation warrants which must be discounted to be sold; that the case was ta-

Sen. Johnson On Mystery Trip to East

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—California politicians were all excited today over the sudden and unannounced departure yesterday of Senator Hiram W. Johnson, presumably for Chicago and Washington. Reports were circulated that Johnson would approve in Chicago an announcement that he would be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

FREE THIRD OFFICER IN NAVY TRIAL

Acting Navigator of Destroyer Fleet Exonerated by Court of Blame for Crash

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 10.—Captain E. H. Watson and Lieutenant Commander D. T. Hunter alone must stand responsible for wrecking eleven destroyers at Point Honda, it was indicated today when a general courtmartial acquitted Lieutenant (J. G.) Lawrence F. Blodgett, acting navigator of the Delphy, of inefficiency and negligence.

Blodgett was the junior member of the trio held most responsible for the crash by the naval inquiry board. Eight other officers, charged in the precept with less serious offenses will be exonerated. It was indicated by the court's action in freeing Blodgett.

Noted Movie Beauty Will Wed Director

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—Betty Compson, movie star, and James Cruze, producer-director, are engaged, according to their own admissions, it became known today. The pair have been engaged about two weeks but the rumors finally leaked out in Hollywood yesterday and both Cruze and Miss Compson admitted that they would be married in about a year.

Cruze's first wife was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce about a month ago.

ken on a contingent basis with the understanding that they would receive no compensation if the claim was not approved, and that the trustees of the district, which is in Sutter county, voted unanimously to pay the fee in question and were well pleased with the outcome.

The reclamation board is expected to launch its inquiry into the case immediately. An attempt to have the state treasurer and the state controller stop payment on warrants in which the district was paid when the reclamation board approved the claim several weeks ago will be the first move on the part of the board members, it was indicated.

TELL BOULDER DAM NEED HERE

ASK SO. CAL. TO JOIN IN PROJECT

L. A. Pledge Not to Usurp Possible Advantages Is Read Regional Meet

Seventy-five men, representatives of various communities and organizations of Southern California, at the forenoon meeting of the Boulder Dam association held at St. Ann's Inn here today, applauded declarations of George C. Cryer, mayor of Los Angeles, and resolutions by the department of public service of that city that Los Angeles would not participate in an activity in connection with the Boulder Dam project that would damage Nevada or Arizona, or that would limit equal opportunity for every community to participate in benefits that will accrue from development of the resources of the Colorado river.

A signed statement by the Los Angeles mayor and the resolutions by the department of public service were read by Mayor S. C. Evans, of Riverside, at the conclusion of an address by William Mulholland, engineer, Los Angeles. Mulholland outlined plans for Southern California communities to divert water from the Colorado river to Southern California for domestic consumption.

Mulholland's address and the statement and resolution were the features of the forenoon session. Tells Low Cost.

Declaring his belief that water from the Colorado river could be delivered in Los Angeles at an approximate cost of 6 cents a hundred feet, Mulholland said that domestic water there is now retailed at 7 cents a hundred feet.

Pointing out that 1000 second feet would produce a supply of 640,000 million gallons a day, the equivalent of the water supply of New York, Mulholland stated that it is proposed to ask the government for an appropriation of 1000 second feet. He further pointed out that this is approximately but one-sixteenth of the river flow under normal conditions.

Bringing out the point that the domestic water project is not exclusively a Los Angeles development, he said plans contemplated a supply for all of Southern California. He in particular mentioned Santa Ana, Anaheim, Long Beach and Pasadena.

Sees 1200-Foot Lift. Stating that a lift of 1200 feet probably would be required to boost the water to be brought into the Southland by conduits, the engineer said that power would be necessary and that permission would be asked for permission to utilize power developed on the river.

Maintaining that the people generally are competent to develop and manage the operation of electric power available to development on the Colorado, Mulholland said: "It is time the people of the United States were holding something for themselves and instead of permitting holding companies to develop for them the great natural resources. If more power will be developed than can be used by the people in the communities that would be served, then we can let some holding company in on the surplus."

Calls River 'Walking Ghost.' Designating the river as "the walking ghost of the Imperial Valley," the engineer said that he hoped the government, if it is going to build the dam, would be induced to get the work under way at once.

Asserting his belief that the government would ask the communities to pay a portion of the cost of the construction of the dam, the engineer said he believed that the communities interested would not oppose bearing a portion of the costs.

Answering a question as to what will become of the silt in the Colorado river, if the Boulder dam is constructed, the Los Angeles engineer said that it would take 60 to 500 years for the silt to fill the river to the top of the dam—"and why worry," he concluded. "Let future generations do the worrying."

Statements Held Vital. In view of the fact that the position of Los Angeles is important, with reference to the development from the Colorado river of a domestic supply, the signed statement of Cryer and the resolution by the public service department are regarded as of deep significance.

In his statement, Mayor Cryer

Eternal Peace is Aim of New Commander of Legion

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 10.—A nation dedicated to eternal peace, that "peace with safety" is the hope of National Commander John R. Quinn of the American Legion, expressed here today in an Armistice day proclamation.

Commander Quinn asked the entire nation to pause a moment at 11 o'clock on Armistice day and join with the legionnaires who will bow their heads in silent tribute to their comrades who fell in battle.

"At 11 o'clock on November 11, 1918, most of us who were in the service believed we had brought a successful end to a war against war," his proclamation said.

In that belief we must confess a large degree of disappointment. It is not too much to ask that on this, the fifth anniversary of the armistice, we ask the entire nation to dedicate itself with us who know the real nature of war, to a ceaseless striving for perpetual peace, not to be gained by spineless pacifism or ignorant disregard for our national security but by the promotion of international good will in any way that will not be incompatible with safety."

WISCONSIN SOLON SILENT ON PLANS FOR SENATE WAR

(Copyright, 1923, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—LaFollette has become a sphinx. One man, who more than any other, has it in his power to direct the course of legislation in congress this winter and thus perhaps vitally affect the outcome of the next presidential election, is hiding his plans under a smiling mask of reticence that baffles the most adept inquirers.

Even LaFollette's closest intimates among the LaFollette group of senators and house members do not know his plans for making effective this winter the control of congress which the 1922 congressional elections gave him.

The hard fighting, work eating Wisconsin senator is taking no chance on having enemy strategy beat him by giving to the forces he will have to contend with a chance to study his program and map out a counter attack.

Since he returned from Europe, LaFollette has been besieged to outline to the country how he will go about swinging the balance of power which his group holds so that the most effective results may be attained for the aims which LaFollette seeks to serve. By one statement and one brief article, he has kept silent. He has commented feelingly on the misery in Germany and the need for help but has said not a word as to his congressional plans or his 1924 political plans.

He has not conferred with President Coolidge at the White House though it was made known from there that LaFollette would be welcomed, this being tantamount to an invitation to him to call and talk things over in the interest of harmony.

Brokers Report Big Gain In Construction

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The building boom continues, according to figures gathered and made public by S. W. Straus and company, investment brokers. The company's figures show that during October, 1923, building was 77 per cent greater in Los Angeles than in October 1922, while in Portland the increase was 69 per cent, and for the Pacific coast the increase was 25 per cent.

Solon Aims Blow at Children of Aliens

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Senator Samuel M. Shortridge of California announced today that he would propose to the coming session of congress a constitutional amendment making it impossible for American born children of alien parents to become citizens if their parents are of a race barred from citizenship. The amendment would be aimed chiefly at orientals.

According to the story told by Miller to police officers, who rushed to the scene of the accident, he was walking toward San Diego when an unidentified man driving a heavy roadster asked him if he desired a "lift" to San Diego. Miller said that at the time of the accident the machine was travelling in excess of 40 miles an hour. After crossing the railroad tracks near Irvine the driver of the machine apparently lost control of the car, Miller said. The machine crashed into a ditch and turned over.

Miller said that he did not know the name of the driver of the auto.

OVER TERROR ON CRUISE, IN SUIT

Damage Action Names S. A. Capitalist; Craft Held Adrift 12 Hours

"Fifteen men on a dead man's chest," as described in the pirate jingle of well-known fiction, were no more terror stricken than the fifteen men who drifted helplessly in a crippled power boat for twelve hours in a rough sea off the Orange county coast, according to the narrative of the ill-starred voyage as contained today in a superior court suit here for $3,794.05, filed against E. D. Burge, Santa Ana capitalist.

The fifteen voyagers brought proceedings against Burge, from whom they claimed to have chartered the boat "Maude F" for a cruise into Mexican waters last August, and who they blamed for their asserted perilous experience with the sea.

Terms Cited. The fifteen plaintiffs include W. Frank Fisher, Gustav Fussner, A. N. Nelson, Bruce Kirkpatrick, Marion Kern, F. K. Fisher, Paul Nimner, Wallace Roundtree, Pace Bartlett, Julius Beck, August De Grazzio, Philip Lau, Herbert Owen, Wilbur Mallman and Paul L. Walker.

The cruise of the Maude F was far from the pleasure trip anticipated by the party, they indicated, in reciting the events of the brief expedition.

Burge, they alleged, had agreed to place the boat in seawayworthy condition and to man it with a competent crew, the plaintiffs having chartered it for a period of about three weeks.

Alleged Mental Anguish. The start was made from San Pedro on August 18 but, judging from the tenor of the complaint on file, the rats must have deserted the ship early. By the next day, having covered a distance of about 100 miles, the engine and pumps failed and the Maude F, it was alleged, drifted helplessly before the roll and toss of the ominous billows. After twelve hours of asserted peril and fright, the party hailed a passing boat and was towed to San Diego. Here they put in for repairs, it was alleged.

The repairs and other expenses, they said, amounted to $794.05, and they were eventually forced to abandon the voyage at San Diego, the plaintiffs demand $3,000 more damages for shock and mental anguish. They are represented in the action by Attorney A. L. Wissburg of San Diego.

Trace Kidnap and Victim to Alameda

MONTEREY, Calif., Nov. 10.—Search for nine years whisks away from the Pacific Grove grammar school Thursday afternoon by an unknown woman, centered in Alameda county, today, according to local officers.

A taxi-cab driver told of having taken a woman and child answers Leon's description from Monterey to Alameda late Thursday.

The woman, who told the school teachers she was Leon's mother, who had not been heard from since 1915, was not known to the chauffeur.

An automobile speeding toward San Diego was wrecked shortly before noon today, near Irvine, and V. Y. Miller, a passenger, sustained possible injuries. Miller was removed to the county hospital here.

According to the story told by Miller to police officers, who rushed to the scene of the accident, he was walking toward San Diego when an unidentified man driving a heavy roadster asked him if he desired a "lift" to San Diego. Miller said that at the time of the accident the machine was travelling in excess of 40 miles an hour. ### CLOUDS LOOSE THUNDER, HALF INCH OF RAIN

Thunder and lightning, hail and rain, played a brief engagement here at noon today.

The moisture precipitation, recorded on the gauge of Hill & Son, was 47 of an inch, making for the season to date a total of 2.10 inches.

The recorded precipitation for the five or ten minutes the storm reigned, indicates its fury.

During the hail storm, pellets of ice were precipitated with fury. Street gutters ran full of water during and following the storm.

It was declared that it has been a long time since Santa Ana was visited by a hail storm as heavy as that of today.

Mrs. Coolidge Leans to Simple Frocks In Selecting Wardrobe

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Calvin Coolidge has just finished her fall shopping. She has bought her wardrobe the most interesting winter of her life thus far—the White House social season.

The label "Made in Paris," so dear to the feminine heart, holds not a bit of lure for Mrs. Coolidge. Her's is a "made in America" wardrobe throughout.

The proprietor of one of Washington's exclusive shops where Mrs. Coolidge bought her winter wardrobe, says she is "keen" about American-made clothes. In fact, she insisted on having American clothes. And he added, she showed "refinement of good judgment" in her selections.

The "first lady" has been shopping quietly since early fall. Now the wardrobe is all

WILL MAKE HOME IN SILESIA CASTLE

Frederick Wilhelm Makes Trip to Homeland In Auto Caravan

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—Germany sees no reason why the former crown prince should be prevented from returning to this country and has so notified the allies, it was learned today. Replying to an entente query as to the crown prince's return, the government said there was no legal obstacle to his homeward trip. Hence, the government stated, the German consul at The Hague had been instructed to grant the crown prince the necessary visa on his passports.

(By United Press Leased Wire) BERLIN, Nov. 10.—Friedrich Wilhelm, heir to the Hohenzollern throne, has re-entered Germany and is traveling by motor to his castle at Oels, Silesia, it was learned here today.

Accompanied by his adjutant, the former crown prince, armed with a passport vised by order of the German government, crossed the frontier and proceeded rapidly toward his estate.

In order to reach Oels, the crown prince will have to travel all the way across Germany, from the western to the eastern part. Oels is near Breslau but is about 200 miles from Berlin and 300 from Munich, scene of the recent monarchist uprising.

At 6:20 the report that the crown prince had passed the border into Germany was definitely confirmed. Earlier in the day when the United Press talked with a border official there by telephone, the official asked:

"Is the kaiser supposed to be accompanying him?" When he was told the kaiser was not coming, he said: "That is unfortunate."

On the eve of the anniversary of the armistice, which ended the war and sent members of the Hohenzollern family into exile, Friedrich Wilhelm departed from Wieringen, the lonely Dutch island which has been his home. He made the trip to the mainland by boat.

Then he proceeded in an automobile driven by a chauffeur. Behind followed another car with luggage and extra gasoline. It is understood that Burgomaster, Kolt of Wieringen rode in this car, accompanying the crown prince as far as the frontier.

FRANCE OPPOSES RETURN OF CROWN PRINCE

PARIS, Nov. 10.—France emphatically objects to the return of the former crown prince to Germany. It was authoritatively declared here today.

Premier Poincare, in his recent note to Germany about the crown prince, demanded confirmation or denial of the numerous reports current lately that he was preparing to return.

He pointed out in strong diplomatic language the "deplorable impression" that would be created in France by his return even if it was as a private citizen.

PASTOR'S WIFE AND TOTS DIE IN QUAKE

As an echo of the disaster which brought to the ground the cities of Yokohama and Tokio in the recent Japanese horror, S. Nitta, local Japanese rancher, today learned that the wife of Rev. K. Kobayashi, former pastor at the Wintersburg Japanese Presbyterian mission, had been killed when her five children as they sought refuge in the government army clothing depot. The Rev. Mr. Kobayashi, who has preached in Fresno, Hanford and Los Angeles, was away on a religious mission at the time of the earthquake.

Nitta said that the work of reconstruction of the fallen cities was rapidly going ahead with more substantial materials being used in the building, especially for the foundations of the houses.

The American plan for business structures has been accepted generally by leading Japanese builders, he said. A photograph of the fallen Tokio, which Nitta exhibited showed a vast pile of ruins with the tall American-built structures looming up unharmed.

"The Japanese people have been deeply touched at the manner in which America opened her purse to help them in their dire hour of need," Nitta said. In a letter which he had just received from his sister-in-law she wrote that everywhere the praise of America and the Red Cross was heard.

Nitta pointed out that the Japanese interpreted as miraculous the fact that a huge statue of Buddha just outside Tokio had not suffered from the seismic disturbance. In his opinion the huge statue was not saved by divine grace but because it was built of solid copper and weighed some 600 tons.

AMERICAN TO GIVE UP PARLEY PLANS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The Hughes plan for an expert conference to bring about a settlement of the reparations controversy will be quietly dropped, due to impossibility of securing an agreement with France, it was believed here today.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—Although France feels the keenest disappointment at America's refusal to participate in a reparations conference under the reservations put forward by this government, there is little chance of Premier Poincare changing his attitude to make it easier for the United States to come in, it was believed today.

As a result of the refusal of the United States to participate in the conference, Poincare will consent to the reparations commission hearing German experts, it was reported today.

The hearing may commence as soon as Hugo Stinnes signs the industrial compacts for resumption of work in the Ruhr, it was learned.

McCarthy was assistant city counselor during the four years J. C. Walton served as mayor.

KING OF KOKOMO HELPS ELKS PREPARE CHARITY SHOW, DUE TO FEATURE LATEST REVUES

"If you can't laugh, don't come," was the advice issued here today by Secretary W. W. Wasser of Santa Ana lodge No. 794, B.P.O.E., referring to the thousand-and-one surprises in store for those who contemplate witnessing the Elks' charity show at the Yost theater November 21, 22 and 23. This show, "The King of Kokomo," is declared to be a hilarious revue on the order of the Bert Williams successes. Director D. S. Hopkins and Bobby Davis, funsters, are shown staging a comedy bit for the photographer.

His! Also, Sh! Likewise, Ps! And so forth. Deep, dark, and mysterious doings in the staid Elks club these days. Yessir! Snappy blonde vamps and tall, gangling sheik men sneaking in and sneaking out. In the lodge rooms? You tell 'em! Right in the lodge room. In the very middle thereof. Explanation Made. And they're singing, and dancing, and lovin' and cuttin' up something terrible! Scandalous! Uh-hah! And nobody's trying to stop 'em. The secretary's powerless, the dignified trustees are mum, and even the learned legal advisors, such as Clyde Bishop and Stanley Reinhaus, are speechless. It seems that it's all regular and proper and everything, however, in charge of the vamps and the sheiks, have a ready explanation for the mysterious doings.

"The King of Kokomo came to town," Hopkins, director of the Elks charity show, scheduled for Yost's theater, November 21, 22 and 23, "and we simply had to take care of him and his entourage." King On Throne. "The King of Kokomo being a good fellow, working for and with to this county for a discussion with the Eltoro ranchers of the electrical situation in that district. The Buena Park farm center will meet Monday night. The program will be directed by the poultry committee headed by Frank B. Jones.

The United States has 13,000,000 motor cars running upon its highways, or more than four per mile of road.

Scripture
Many are the afflictions of the righteous; but the Lord delivereth him out of them all.—Ps. 34:19.
When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when the wicked bear rule, the people mourn.—Prov. 29:2.
Ye now therefore have sorrow; yet your joy shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.—John 16:22.
That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing.—1 Thess. 4:12.

It is easy enough to object to the lack of originality shown by the founders of these many communities. But when one abandons theories and takes up practice, it is undoubtedly easier to write addresses legibly than to find new names.—Stockton Independent.

GRAND JURY IN BID HERE FOR CRITICISM

Wanted—complaints or constructive criticism.

Such was the unusual request made of the public today. That is, it would have been unusual had it come from almost any other source. Most people, it is well known, do not want complaints or criticism, constructive or otherwise.

But this call came from the Orange county grand jury, which explains why it is not unusual, as complaints or criticism coming to the grand jury are about other people and, therefore are not objectionable—to the grand jury. To the above want-ad, however, might have been added "if any." It isn't as though the grand jury wanted to hear complaints or criticism; but it wants to hear them if they exist, it was presumed.

In a communication to The Register from Secretary Hugh T. Thompson of the grand jury today it was pointed out that the grand jury is now in session and conducts meetings every Monday at 9:30 a. m. in the courthouse.

The body will be glad to see anyone having complaints to make of any of the county departments, or who can offer any constructive criticism.

Evidently the "complaint and criticism trade" has been poor this year, thus forcing the grand jury to advertise for business, was one suggestion offered with reference to the call.

A Wonderland

Out in the desert near the Bill Kays ranch, sixty miles east of Banning, and also in the Coachella valley, are prehistoric caves where hieroglyphics tell an unknown story of a race that long ago vanished from the face of the earth.

Who wrote these characters upon the enduring rocks of the great Colorado desert? Was it not a ranch of the cliff-dwellers or the Aztecs? And was it not accomplished a million years ago when the arm of the Gulf of California reached up toward Banning, where the ancient sea shells are yet to be found? Mr. Webb, a Coachella citizen, believes the sign language is as ancient as it is wonderful.

Some day excursions of scientists and naturalists will stop over at Banning on their regular stage line trips over the coming Banning-Amboy road to visit the wonderland around twenty-nine Palms, near where the Indian legends and history seems to be written in ink that cannot be erased, on the mute rocks of this very interesting land.—Banning Record.

William Jennings Bryan's Weekly Bible Talk

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN
(Matt. 9:35-38; Luke 8:1; John 3:16-17)

The supreme Missionary of all time was Jesus Christ our Lord, though I wonder how many of us ever think of Him as such and recognize that the four gospels are almost entirely devoted to work which was missionary in character.

"And Jesus," records Matthew, "went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people."

Note His impartiality; He did not confine Himself to the cities where great numbers could be gathered together on short notice, but visited in villages as well—and "the common people heard him gladly."

Peloubet's Notes present a very striking thought in connection with Christ's travels. They take a single country, India, and point out that "if Christ had started on the day of his baptism to preach to the villages of India and had continued up to the present, visiting one village a day. He would still have thirty thousand villages to visit." And India is but a part of the world!

A Growing Foundation
As the missionary work of Jesus covers only three years, the total number of cities and villages visited was necessarily small, and yet the gospel preached and the healing done in them laid the foundation for a spiritual kingdom that has been growing ever since.

Besides teaching in the synagogues and preaching the "gospel of the kingdom," He was busy "healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness," as the revised version has it. The spiritual side of Christ's work has been emphasized throughout the ages, but little emphasis has been placed upon the healing of bodily ills.

It is proper that the spiritual should have precedence over the purely physical for, as Mrs. McPherson puts it, life is so short that the healing of the body helps for a few years only while the soul lives forever, and yet it should not be forgotten that Christ, by healing the sick, not only manifested His sympathy but furnished evidence of His divine power.

A Wonderful Record

The recorded miracles wrought by Him included the curing of practically every form of disease known at that time. In sending back an answer to an inquiry, He recounted a number of evidences of His power: "The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them." Besides these diseases, He healed dropsy, dumbness, fever, palsy, issue of blood and withered muscles and also cast out devils.

But—and here is a thought that challenges attention—when Christ "saw the multitudes, He was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd."

He had the power to help and He could not rest when He saw all about Him a need which He could supply. The people were like sheep without a shepherd; they needed leadership and there was no one to lead them. And is not that the condition today in many parts of the world?

The Home Missionary

There are great masses of people to whom the Gospel has not been carried—human souls that await the light. They need to know of God's love; they need to be informed of the foreign mission-ary and a work that should be more easily accomplished. No Christian with whom religion is a reality can feel at ease if he is not doing his part to aid these shepherdless sheep scattered over so many pastures.

In our own land the interest in Christian education is stimulated by the fact that many young men and young women who receive their education without any admixture of spiritual training turn a deaf ear to the cries of spiritual distress that arise on every side. What a change would be wrought if every college graduate, man and woman, returning from an institution of learning, would return to religious work at home in church and Sunday school, giving those of less education the benefit of the mental training received in college.

The Need For Workers
If every one with a trained mind was inspired by the spirit of Christ and became a teacher, that promised day would soon be ushered in when "every knee shall bow and every tongue confess" to God.

"The harvest, truly is plentiful," as it was when Christ looked out upon the field, but the laborers are few now, even as they were then. We need to pray earnestly today as the disciples were asked to pray—"The Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest."

Luke, in almost the same words used by Matthew, records a description of Christ's journeyings through the cities and villages, preaching and bringing the good tidings of the kingdom of God. The twelve traveled with him; they were assisting Him in all His labors and, at the same time, acquiring the experience that they would soon need. He was training them for the work for which they were enlisted. They were chosen to preach the Gospel that He preached and to heal even as He healed.

Wedding Anniversary Is Pleasant Affair In Prior Home

When Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Prior of 418 Cypress street celebrated their sixteenth wedding anniversary on Thursday, November 8, they gathered together members of the family circle who were present at the beautiful church wedding in Riverside First Methodist church in 1907.

Feminine members of the family group reached the Prior home early in the day and spent the time happily in chat and "visiting." At noon, Mrs. Prior and her sisters, Mrs. A. Frasher and Mrs. J. R. Wagner, were guests of the Lions club at the weekly luncheon and appeared on the program, Mrs. Prior at the piano for songs presented by the two visitors.

As evening approached, they were joined by the men of the family and all gathered around the charmingly appointed tables where a most appetizing dinner was served. Mrs. Prior used chrysanthemums from her garden to adorn the rooms and the tables while dominating the scene were the beautiful roses sent by the Lions in honor of the anniversary.

Attractive cards marked places for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Prior and their interesting family including the twin sons, Hubert and Herbert, Gertrude, Royce, Thelma and Billy Gene; Mrs. Prior's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodman of Riverside, also Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Frasher and young daughters, Ellen and Marjory, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wagner and sons, Reginald and Donald, all from Riverside.

From Long Beach were Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Woodman and sons, Robert and Arthur and Mrs. Clara Woodman.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Prior "honeymooned" at Riverside, slipping away from their friends and family and spending the day amid the scenes of their courtship. Last night Mr. Prior sang at a special service at the church which offered the setting for their wedding sixteen years ago.

Past Noble Grands

Mrs. J. W. Mitchell and Mrs. W. G. Gould were the genial hostesses yesterday afternoon at the home of the former, 611 Garfield street, to the Past Noble Grands of Torosa Rebekah lodge. The rooms were bright with goldenrod, red, roses and lovely chrysanthemums.

The diversion for the afternoon was progressive whist, the prizes to be awarded at the close of the series.

Late in the afternoon, the hostesses served delicious pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee.

Besides the hostesses those present were Misses Leota Allen, Belle Buck, Mattie Bowers, Ida Carey, Maud Swarthout, Zada Pankey, Amelia Prather, Nellie Young, Mary Kuhl, Irene Mitchell, Floyd Mitchell and her wee daughter, Betty.

Bazaar Plans

LADIES' GUILD.
In anticipation of the bazaar which the Ladies' guild of the Church of the Messiah will hold at the Parish hall, Wednesday afternoon, November 21, those having work at home are requested to complete it and deliver it to the church Tuesday afternoon, November 13, in readiness for the marking committee to press and mark it.

Mrs. John Crawford, vice president of the guild, will be at the church to receive the articles and they will be placed in charge of the marking committee, Mrs. George L. Chapman and Mrs. James Allen. All articles which members and friends are donating are expected to be turned in that day also.

Musicians May Spend Winter In East

Clarence Gustlin, chairman of opera for western division and vice-chairman of publicity of the National Federation of Music clubs will leave tomorrow morning to attend a national board meeting in New York City convening Thursday and ending Saturday of next week.

Mr. Gustlin may remain until early spring, taking advantage of the opera and concert season and the opportunity to prepare some recital programs. He plans a tour of the western federated clubs and their annual state conventions next spring in company with the national president, Mrs. John F. Lyons, of Fort Worth, Texas, and other federation officials.

Daughters of Veterans

When the Sons and Daughters of Veterans entertain at G. A. R. hall Monday night in celebration of Veteran's day, the program will open with community singing of America.

Following in rapid succession will be trombone solo, C. D. Clanton; address, Harry A. Thayer; Santa Barbara, division commander; remarks by Fred C. Martin of Los Angeles, senior vice-district commander; solo, Mrs. Everett White; remarks, Arthur M. Clark, of Carpinteria, division secretary and treasurer; address, Ray E. Langworthy of Pomona, division chief of staff; music, D. Clanton; remarks, L. D. Brode of Wilmington, division organizer; response, the Rev. F. T. Porter.

Short talks by G. A. R. men will be followed by music by Mr. Clanton; patriotic drill, Santa Ana W. R. C. and a social hour during which refreshments will be served.

Radio Supplies at Gerwings.

Merry Supper Dance Given For Members Of Younger Set

Pretty girls in vivid dancing frocks and stalwart lads of the high school and junior college set, last night gathered at Ketter's gold room in response to invitations issued recently by Madame Manuela Budrow to a supper dance honoring her attractive sub-deb daughter, Miss Rebecca Budrow.

Pink roses were used effectively in decorations and the entire effect was to offer a charming background for the group of delightful young people who danced to the strains of the latest popular music furnished by a three-piece orchestra.

The dancing program was broken by the supper, served at small tables adorned with pink roses and offering a delectable menu of those dainties most enjoyed by young people.

Madame Budrow chaperoned the group which was composed of the honoree, Miss Rebecca Budrow and the Misses Emily Holmes, Evelyn Babbitt, Adelaide Spencer, Constance Crookshank, Lizzetta Phillips, Charlotte Chase, Doris Knox, Doris Hill, Marie Carothers, Rowena Moore, Margaret Haley, Pauline Carnahan, Madeline Moas and Ethel Smallwood.

Social Aspect Given Board Meeting By S. A. Hostess

Mrs. F. W. Wiesseman was a charming hostess yesterday when she presided at a luncheon calling together members of the executive board of the San Diego District Methodist Home Missionary society.

The occasion was the stated board meeting but the affair was given a pleasant social angle by Mrs. Wiesseman's hospitality. Garden roses were used in profusion and lent a lovely touch to the luncheon table where places were arranged for eighteen, including the hostess, together with Mrs. Will A. Betts, Mrs. C. W. Burns, Mrs. P. A. Robinson and Mrs. W. B. Snow of Santa Ana and other members from Riverside, La Habra, Orange, Garden Grove, Anaheim and Fullerton.

During the business session which occupied the afternoon hours, plans for rally and district meetings were discussed and perfected. Mrs. Wiesseman, the hostess, is district secretary of Spanish work.

District Federation Sessions Will Draw Many S. A. Women

Promising an unusually interesting session, the convention of the southern district of the California Federation of Women's clubs, scheduled for November 13 to 16, at Glenwood Mission Inn, Riverside, will attract hosts of Santa Ana women in addition to those named to represent individual clubs.

Registration will occupy the entire morning of the opening day on Tuesday with a luncheon to be enjoyed at the Mission Inn at midday. Officers' reports with those of committee and department chairmen will be presented in the afternoon and the much-discussed club institute will be conducted by Mrs. Charles S. McKelvey.

In the evening the Riverside Woman's clubhouse will be the scene of a brilliant reception presenting an address on "European Impressions" by Captain Paul Perigord, and musical numbers by the Town Weavers' section of the Corona club, Mrs. Norma K. Robbins, director.

At the Wednesday session, "Why Clubs Pay War Tax" will be the subject of a talk by Carl Falkenberg followed by reports of departments of fine arts and applied education. "Colorado River and Boulder Dam" will be the subject of an illustrated lecture by E. C. LaRue, engineer of the U. S. Geological Survey and an address on the Boulder Dam association will be offered by the Hon. S. C. Evans, associate president.

Wednesday afternoon, department chairmen reports will be followed by a Country Life program at the Citrus Experiment station and by a tea with Riverside Wednesday club as hostesses. The executive board meeting is arranged for Wednesday night.

Thursday promises to be the day of days, bringing as it does, the national and state presidents. Reports of county presidents will be given in the morning followed by an address on Indian Lore by Mrs. H. A. Atwood, general federation secretary of Indian welfare.

Mrs. John C. Urquhart, state president, will present the principal morning address and the afternoon session will be marked by greetings from many distinguished guests and the introduction of Mrs. Thomas C. Winter, national president by Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, California director of the general federation.

Mrs. Winter will be the sole afternoon speaker after which tea will be served at Sherman Institute, the government school. That night will bring the most interesting social event of the convention, the banquet at Mission Inn at which Mrs. Kate Monteith will act as toastmistress and the distinguished guests will be honored.

Friday, the final day will bring a conclusion to the reports including those of presidents, standing committees and resolutions. Mrs. Margaret E. Frick, state chairman of institutional relations will speak on that topic as the final event of a thoroughly enjoyable program.

With each session open to the general public, the event is expected to attract clubwomen from all over the district and Riverside is said to be planning a royal welcome for the hosts of brilliant and interesting women.

Both Ebell club of Santa Ana valley and Santa Ana Woman's club are sending full delegations in addition to dozens of women who will represent the clubs unofficially.

County Osteopaths In Monthly Session

Last night at the home of Dr. Vance Tremaine in Santa Ana canyon was held the monthly meeting of the Orange County Osteopathic Society.

Those present were Dr. Bashor, State Osteopathic president; Dr. Beatrice McMullen and George Hampden of Fullerton; Drs. Hilham and Bighan and Dr. H. G. Carlin of Anaheim; Mrs. Mary E. Wright, H. J. Howard, Olewiler and Olewiler and Dr. Glover and his wife all of Santa Ana.

A supper of good old fashioned Mexican beans and all the trimmings was enjoyed by all those present and Dr. Tremaine was voted an excellent cook.

After supper Dr. Bashor, president of the State Osteopathic Association, gave a talk on the general condition of state affairs and work in the various hospitals especially the Los Angeles County hospital, where the osteopaths are having a section of their own for the treatment of all diseases.

Dr. Bashor also gave a paper on tubercular subjects which was very interesting.

The December session will be held in Santa Ana.

S. A. Women's Club
Mrs. M. C. Williams of 719 Orange avenue, will be hostess to members of the Santa Ana Woman's club, Tuesday, November 20 at 2:30 p. m.

All members of the club are asked to join in the jolly shower being promoted by Mrs. R. E. Arrowhead of Huntington Beach, county chairman of friendly co-operation with ex-service men and women. The jolly will be taken to Arrowhead for Thanksgiving distribution and Mrs. Arrowhead will collect Woman's club donations on November 19. All members are asked to leave a glass of jelly with Mrs. Henry Diers, 1109 North Main street, ere that date.

Something new, Fine French Pastry, Fancy Roll Pies and Cakes made especially for Banquets, Parties and Picnics at the Lion Candy Kitchen, 211 West 4th Street.

Shrine Charity Ball Promises to Out-do Previous Affairs

Charity will be made doubly sweet by members of the Orange County Shrine club and their friends who are conspiring to make this year's Charity Ball quite the most delightful social event that Santa Ana and the county has experienced and at the same time, make Christmas happy indeed for those to whom otherwise it would be merely the twenty-fifth day of the last month of the year.

Planned for Thursday night, November 22, the third annual ball will be held at St. Ann's Inn where the spacious dining-room will offer its pleasantest aspect to the revelers. Chapman's orchestra which is almost as much a part of the Shrine club Christmas festivities as Santa Claus, will present the program.

And speaking of Santa Claus, R. L. Bisby's comfortable rotundity will lend itself as admirably to the decorative effects of the genial Saint as in the past when his advent with a full pack of highly suitable presents was always the signal for mirth and merriment.

Underlying the merriment of the Shrine ball, and perhaps serving to sweeten the evening by the force of contrast, is the thought of the suffering and poverty which the proceeds of the ball will alleviate. For the Orange county Shrine club devotes its attention to matters close home. And every case reported to the relief committee of which Charles C. Chapman is chairman, is carefully investigated and in almost every case assistance given.

D. Eymann Huff, president of the club and his directors, regard the relief work as a permanent and philanthropic effort and declare that in all such work, the need is never so pronounced as at Christmas. Hence the purpose of the Christmas ball.

Every noble is requested to wear his fez as a distinguishing mark. That many from Al Malakiah temple will be present, is anticipated by the hospitality committee. To do so to please and features of the affair will be the program presented by Madame Manuela Valera-Budrow, Spanish composer and concert singer whose beautiful voice wins her the highest praise of the critics. Miss Geraldine Rodriguez will present Spanish dances in costume and it is anticipated that there are still other delightful features for Shrineers, their friends and guests.

Daughters of Confederacy

Daughters of the Confederacy assembled recently as the guests of Mrs. J. W. Taylor and Mrs. Cornelia Phillips at the Taylor home, 406 South Birch street, will long remember the pleasures of the afternoon's hospitality and the program, featuring Colonel William F. Heathman as speaker.

Colonel Heathman gave an interesting and delightfully amusing account of his recent trip East and to his boyhood home in the south and kept his hearers convulsed with laughter especially when recounting his ill luck in having his fishing rod stolen again and again.

When southerners learned he was just back from California, they besieged him with questions, declared the speaker who asserted that they were so eager to hear about the Golden state that they frequently detained him beyond his train time and he was never sure of carrying out plans.

Believing that forty-eight years in California warranted him in acquainting himself first with the west, the speaker told of visiting the Yosemite en route to his ultimate destination, Oxford, Mississippi, where his sister resides at the old home.

Canadian Rockies were described, they having formed part of the interesting trip.

In addition to the Colonel's talk, the Daughters had the pleasure of receiving a picture of Robert E. Lee, the gift of Robert E. Lee Bisby and Mrs. Bisby, it having been a prized possession of the former's mother for many years.

An invitation from Adjutant Clyde Whitney of the American Legion to join in Armistice day services at the high school auditorium Sunday night was accepted. The afternoon closed with the hostesses serving ice cream and cake.

Pythian Sisters

At the latest organization meeting of the Pythian Sisters at K. of P. hall in Tustin arrangements were completed for sending for the charter in readiness for the initiation ceremonies scheduled for December 6.

In the meantime every member is asked to be present on the night of November 22 when Mrs. Goodhue of Miramonte chapter, Pasadena, will give instructions and aid along various lines.

Saturday night, November 17, the members will sponsor a box social and dance at the K. of P. hall.

Parent-Teachers

On account of the general celebration of Armistice day, the John Muir P. T. A. meeting scheduled for Monday the 12th, has been advanced to November 15 when it will be held at the school at 2:45 p. m.

Mrs. Irene Pringle of Garden Grove will speak on "Obedience to Law" and Fourth grade children will give entertainment features.

Book Review

November's session of the Book Review, to be held as usual with the Edward M. Nealleys at Tustin, will offer a review of the "Life and Letters of Walter Hines Page," conducted by Miss Jennie Lasby. The program will begin at 7:45 p. m. anticipated.

Two Hostesses Join In Entertaining Midnight Club

The Misses Ruth Cope and Miriam Baird were co-hostesses of the Midnight Card club upon the occasion of the latest meeting held at the home of Miss Cope, 318 West Chestnut street.

Five hundred was the chosen game of the evening and Miss Isabel Wylie received first prize by merely the twenty-fifth day of the last month of the year.

The surprise of the evening came when Mrs. Edward Ward, formerly Miss Nita May, was presented with the guest prize which took the form of a miscellaneous shower and yielded many lovely gifts for her new home.

A two-course midnight supper was served by the joint hostesses at attractively decked tables.

Club members enjoying the affair in addition to the honor guests, Mrs. Ward, were the Misses Kathryn Buxton, Glenna Joan Hill, Louise Campbell, Anna Grace McElroy, Kathleen Trago, Allene Shipp, Iris Head, Isabel Wylie, Constance Vegely, Mrs. Robert Jeffrey and the hostesses, Miss Ruth Cope and Miss Miriam Baird.

Missionary Society

BAPTIST.
Highly interesting was the recent all-day session of the Women's society of the church parlors. A busy morning devoted to an industrial session was followed by an enjoyable luncheon and that in turn by a brief business session when it was announced that over 500 calls had been made during the past month.

At 2 o'clock the missionary program opened with "America's Children" as the topic. Three divisions of the topic were ably handled in papers presented by Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks on "Child Delinquency," Mrs. H. E. Wheeler on "Child Labor," and Mrs. E. A. Davidson on "Religious Education." Adding to the interest of the program were the Butte numbers played by young Harry French, who gave "Ave Maria" and "Trauermarsch."

The society is daily being congratulated by church members and friends on the splendid work of the year under the efficient presidency of Mrs. W. H. Harrison and the leaders of the sections into which it is divided.

Dorcas Society

Meeting Thursday afternoon with Mrs. R. R. Lutes and Mrs. Turton at the home of the former, 802 South Garnsey street, thirty-six members of the Dorcas society of the First M. E. church with a round dozen of happy children enjoyed a pleasant session.

Mrs. Sidney Saunby gave a pleasing solo numbers while Mrs. R. P. Brown gave equally entertaining piano selections and Mrs. J. A. Randall offered interesting readings.

The hostesses served refreshments as the afternoon drew to a close. It was considered especially appropriate that the Dorcas society should preside at the baby booth at the forthcoming M. E. bazaar, November 15. They will have charge of the rubber goods booth as an addition to the baby booth and will also have charge of the fancy work.

Aid Society

LUTHERAN.
The pleasure of entertaining members and friends of the Lutheran Aid society was enjoyed on a recent afternoon by Grandma Miller at her home, 2230 North Main street, when she and Mrs. Anna Miller were hostesses.

The rooms were gay with chrysanthemums and potted plants, and the guests were enjoying a social chat when a surprise came in the appearance of eighteen members of the Anaheim Lutheran Aid society. During the happy social hour which preceded a business session, the hostesses served refreshments to the group of friends who numbered fifty-six and included Mrs. Effie Duke, of Wolf City, Texas, who is a guest in the Miller home.

Men's Club

C. G. Dickson, boys' director of the Pasadena Presbyterian church, will be the principal speaker at the Father-Sons banquet to be presented by the Men's club of the First Baptist church, Tuesday night, November 13, at 8:30 o'clock. Men and boys of the church will also give short talks and there will be special music.

Household Economics

Each member of Ebell's second section Household Economics is asked to respond to roll-call with an item of current interest about Russia, the topic for the next session of the section which will be a luncheon at which Mrs. M. A. Patton, Mrs. Marshall Keeler and Mrs. Frederick H. Eley will present at the Patton home, 1603 French street, Wednesday, November 14 at 1 o'clock.

DELINQUENT FUND IS CUT BY $2000

Delinquent pledgers to the Y. M. C. A. building fund had paid $2000 since it was announced a few days ago that the delinquencies amounted to $19,026. It was stated today by E. B. Sprague, treasurer of the association.

At the same time Sprague disclosed that the next payment date on pledges is January 1, when approximately $45,000 will fall due, in addition to delinquencies that may prevail on that date.

As yet S. H. Finley, president of the association, has not set the date upon which it is expected directors will meet next week to discuss plans for organizing a campaign to collect delinquent subscriptions, Sprague said.

As tentatively discussed, it is proposed to call into service forty-five or fifty men of the city and assign to each a list of names of those who have so far failed to meet pledge obligations due since July 1.

Pointing out that the contractor erecting the new Y. M. C. A. building is paid each month 75 per cent of the estimated amount of building construction done the previous month, Sprague said that the association is making present payments with borrowed money.

"All pledges are paid when the building is completed, the association will lack approximately $50,000 to pay for the work," said the treasurer, in pointing out the certainty of a deficit, unless another campaign is organized to procure more funds. "The large deficit will be due to the fact that the size of the building was increased over the original plans."

It is understood there is possibility that at the next meeting of the directors there may be discussion of the matter of creating another campaign organization to raise the amount needed to dedicate the new building free of debt.

UNUSUAL TRUST FUND

DES MOINES, Nov. 10.—The operation caused Adolph Melzer to jump into the Ohio river to end his life. Melzer was well known as an owner of fine horses. He had placed $4000 in Evansville and Berlin banks, to be kept in trust for 250 years and then to be used for the care of horses in this country and Germany. If the trust stands it will amount to nearly $2,000,000 when it becomes available.

EXPERT ADVISES ADVERTISING CLUB HERE

Members of the Advertising Club of Santa Ana enjoyed two splendid talks at their regular bi-monthly meeting held yesterday at St. Ann's Inn. Elliott C. Hensel, a director of the Los Angeles Advertising club and an advertising man of broad experience, made the principal address on the subject of the day, "What Organized Advertising Is Doing for the Pacific Coast."

Hensel handled his subject in a forceful manner and interpolated a lot of sound advice regarding the path the local advertising club should travel. The club members enjoyed and received more good from Hensel's digression than they did from his main subject. The speaker urged the club to make its chief aim and mission the teaching of better advertising and to avoid the mistake made by many new advertising clubs of developing into social organizations.

In the course of his remarks he gave his favorite definition of advertising—"Advertising is telling the truth attractively."

R. L. Bisby reviewed the activities of organized advertising on the coast from the early days down to the present time and spoke with authority as a former president of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs association. He also urged the Santa Ana club to center its activities on the bringing of new, substantial and needed industries to our midst.

President Rudd appointed Bisby chairman of the club's industrial committee at the conclusion of his able address. The Chatter Trio furnished music for the meeting. The next meeting will be held at St. Ann's Inn, November 23, with L. R. Crawford in charge.

TUSTIN ELEVEN IN SURPRISE VICTORY

Coach Earl Murray's Tustin high school football team today afternoon sprung the most luscious surprise of the Orange league season when it trounced Coach H. M. Davis' Orange eleven, 13 to 0. The fray was played at Tustin.

The old rule that it pays to follow the ball won the game for Murray's henchmen for both Tustin touchdowns were the result of fumbles by Orange backfield men.

Lyle Kelley accounted for the first score in the second quarter when he picked up a loose ball and scampered 40 yards to behind the goal posts. Captain "Bus" Thompson repeated this trick for 35 yards in the third period. Thompson kicked goal after the second touchdown.

Verne Boynton, right tackle, Harris, end, and Thompson and Kelly starred for the winners. Brubaker, fullback, and Thompson, center, were best for Orange.

Anaheim now leads the Orange league standing, having no defeats chalked against it. Should Orange trim the Mother Colony eleven at Orange Armistice Day, a three-cornered tie between Tustin, Orange and Anaheim will result. Tustin's next tilt is with Huntington Beach at the seaside city Friday.

STAR OREGON BACK IN STANFORD GAME

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 10.—Joyous confidence radiated from Oregon's football rooters as they beat their war drums and whooped their battle cries through Portland's streets on Friday night.

Their joy was not without reason. Until a late hour Friday they had seen their warriors would enter the lists without their fighting leader, Harold Chapman, brilliant quarterback. But at the last hour Coach "Shy" Huntington announced that Chapman will be in his regular position at Multnomah Field today when the lemon-yellow and the Cardinal come to grips.

At the Stanford headquarters this morning, Coach Andy Kerr made no rash promises but declared "we're not here to say much about ourselves but to play the best football we know and win this game."

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 10.—G. E. Tadish was arrested yesterday by Officer W. H. Stanton on charges brought against him by an inn keeper of Bakersfield, charging him with "beating a bill." Tadish will be held pending arrival of Bakersfield authorities. Walter Langford of Long Beach was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Coleman. He was charged with intoxication.

RAILROAD IMPROVEMENTS

EVANSVILLE, Nov. 10.—According to an announcement by the Illinois Central Railroad company the company will begin construction of a large railroad shop the early part of next year. The company plans to spend over $1,000,000 and approximately 2000 men will be employed in the additional shop.

DOMESTIC TILT OF RICH PAIR TOLD COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—A suit for separate maintenance was filed in the superior court by Mrs. Lottie C. Sly, asking for an allowance of $2500 a month from L. H. Sly, owner of the Stanford Court apartments and reputed multi-millionaire.

The Slys were married in Sacramento, December 3, 1922. Following their marriage they left San Francisco for an extended tour abroad in company with another couple, the friends of both. They returned to New York in June, 1923, and took up their residence at the Belmont hotel.

According to Mrs. Sly, on June 5 without provocation or warning Sly informed her that he was through with married life and the best thing for her to do under the circumstances would be to return to the home she occupied before her marriage. He further advised, using coarse language, that he would be leaving her for good.

Mrs. Sly, however, left for San Francisco on June 12 and upon her arrival here was refused entrance to her husband's apartment, according to her complaint. Since that time Sly has allowed her to see him, although he has an income of $300,000 a year, she declared.

Army May Acquire Fine Arts Palace

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The Palace of Fine Arts may be acquired by the war department and converted into a storehouse for army supplies, it was announced at headquarters of the 9th corps area, Presidio. It was stated that the building, which stands on a part of the Presidio reservation, was recently offered for sale to the military authorities by the Palace of Fine Arts association. The ground on which it was erected was filed into the control of the University of California by act of congress, with the right to build a railroad between the Presidio and Fort Mason reserved to the army. Arrangements for carrying out this plan have never been completed.

WIDE CHASM IN FIGURES
MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—There is $10,000,000 difference between the valuation placed on the properties of the Minneapolis Street Railway company by the company and that submitted to the state railroad commission by City Attorney Neil M. Cronin. The company's figures is $26,098,157, while the city's prepared by Dr. Deios F. Wilcox, is $15,939,918. These are original cost totals. The company claims the reproduction cost would be $48,013,146.

FARMER TO BLAME

EVANSVILLE, Nov. 10.—Fear of owner of a hog is responsible for damages if he lets his porker wander about a highway and bring disaster to a motorist. That is the decision of the Iowa supreme court in the case of Emma Stewart of Pottawattamie county vs. Henry Wild. A Wild pig in the road was hit by the Stewart automobile, which overturned, injuring several members of the family.

It's a Mystery!

IT'S A MYSTERY to every woman. When shall I marry—at 19 or 29? Which age promises me the most happiness? It is a problem that no woman has satisfactorily solved. Those married at 19, if they are unhappy, wish they had waited. Those married at 29, if they are happy, wish they had married younger. Or if they are not happy they are sure to believe that they would have found happiness had they married younger. What's the answer?

COUNTY TRADES BODY PLANNING MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Auto Association Effects Reorganization; New President Named

WILL ADOPT BUDGET

Need of Organization Here During Critical Period Forecast, Is Cited

Electing H. M. Kinslow president, establishing dues at $10 per month and declaring in favor of complete reorganization, directors of the Orange County Automobile Trades association today were considering plans for an active drive for membership, it was announced by J. B. Glaze, secretary of the organization.

Pointing out that under the new plan of operation a board of directors would direct the business activities of the association, Glaze said that contracting of debts beyond the limit of the financial income of the organization in the future would be prevented.

New plans contemplate operation under a budget system, with expenses limited to the budget, and dues established that will provide the necessary income, he said.

At a recent meeting the directors chose Kinslow as head of the organization, to succeed Paul Price of Fullerton, whose retirement from the auto industry in the county automatically created a vacancy in the presidency. O. A. Haley and D. D. Andrews are vice-presidents.

"The next two years are going to be critical years for the automobile industry and those engaged in this line will need more than ever the services and influence of the association," declared Glaze. "For this reason the directors propose making the county association stronger than ever was in the past. Dues will be established that insure operation of the office of the secretary in such a way as to render an invaluable service to members."

Delivery this week of a seven-passenger Lincoln sedan to C. H. Perkins, 911 Spurgeon street, by George Dunton, Lincoln distributor, was pointed out today by Dunton as another instance in which a closed car has replaced an open model.

"Perkins has been a Lincoln owner for several years and has driven his 1920 touring car many thousands of miles," said A. O. Margraff, manager for Dunton of Lincoln sales. "Perkins is enthusiastic over his new model, with its many refinements. He particularly is pleased with the comfort of the sedan."

Members of County Auto Body to Close For Armistice Day

Automobile dealers identified with the Orange County Motor Dealers' association will observe Armistice day by closing their places of business all day Monday, it was announced today by Herbert O. Davis, secretary of the association.

Pointing out that the day marks the anniversary of an event that altered the world and brought happiness to millions of sufferers, Davis said that dealers are 100 per cent supporters of the American Legion in its effort to bring about proper recognition of the anniversary.

CITES FORD SHIFT AS BOON TO SAFETY

"Motor car purchasers, careful to consider safety elements in automobile construction, are giving more and more attention all the time to cars in which the operation necessary for proper control in traffic are reduced to a minimum," says George Dunton, Ford agent.

"A notable example of how this can be successfully carried out is found in the design and operation of the control of the Ford car, which gives the driver exceptional command in traffic, in mud and sand—in fact in every place where facility of control is all important. "In shifting gears, the driver's attention need not be distracted from the road ahead, as the shifting is made by his feet on the pedals and soon becomes automatic, and his hands are at all times on the steering wheel. In the Ford transmission there is no danger of clashing gears and it is impossible to fail in accomplishing a gear shift. Further, the shift is made silently."

122 Denver Voting Machines Being $336

DENVER, Nov. 10.—The city of Denver sold 122 automatic voting machines which had been lying idle for sixteen years, for $3 apiece. They brought a grand total of $366. The city paid $112,500 for them. The machines were sold to Robert Russell of Denver. He said he probably would sell them as junk.

FINANCIAL MAN ENTERS AUTO FIELD HERE

Local Firm to Expand Its Operations December 1, With New Addition

Announcing today that X. V. Ayers, of the local insurance and automobile financing firm of Phillips and Ayers, has purchased an interest in Townsend Motor company, Hudson and Essex dealer, preparations were going forward by the company for extending its field of operations here, Ray Townsend, president and manager of the company, declared. Ayers will take an active part in the business starting with the first of December. By that time Ayers will have returned from Detroit, for which point he left Thursday.

He has gone to the factory to get first-hand information on the Hudson and Essex lines for 1924 and other information that may be of service in guiding the local company in its contemplated plans for expansion, Townsend added.

To Finance Sales
Pointing out that Ayers had been identified with automobile financing since his location here a year and a half ago, Townsend said that in future the company would finance its own sales contracts, a service, he said, that will be both helpful and convenient for purchasers of merchandise handled by the company.

"I have owned several Hudson and Essex cars and have found them always of a superior type," said Ayers. "It long has been my ambition to become identified with a franchise for these cars, and I am happy at the opportunity offered in my association with the Townsend Motor company."

Sees Bright Future
"I regard this section as one of the best for automobile sales, and I feel that I have become identified with a high-grade line of merchandise in the best territory in the world."

Ayers is a nephew of George Shriver, well-known local hardware salesman, and before coming to Santa Ana was cashier and director of the First National bank at Alameda, Kans. Taking a directorate in the bank at the age of 19, Ayers at the time was declared to be the youngest bank director in the world.

Ayers was accompanied east by Mrs. Ayers, who will visit until after the holidays with relatives at Alameda.

ADDS ANOTHER TIRE LINE TO ENTERPRISE

Roy J. Lyon, distributor for Miller tires, today had completed purchase of the franchise here for the General line of tires and tubes, it was announced. He purchased the agency from Gordon McLeellan.

Lyon is moving the McLeellan stock and equipment from 211 North Main street to his place of business, 108 East First street. Pointing out that the two lines will place him in position to meet the demand of all motorists for desiring a good rubber equipment, Lyon indicated that he expected to make rather extensive expansion in his enterprise.

It also was announced that Ben E. Warner, sales manager with McLeellan, would continue in that position with Lyon.

REED TO LEAD FIGHT

STUDEBAKER SEDAN HAS ADMIRERS AMONG BEACH STUDENTS

Huntington Beach high school girls say they like the Big Six Studebaker coupe, following close inspection of a model used this week in conveying a group of Santa Ana newspaper men to the Huntington Beach high school. The car was driven by Potter Bowles of the Bowles Motor company, Studebaker agent.

WARN DEALERS ON HEADLIGHT SHIFT PRICE

Declaring that attention of his department has been called to excessive charge made by some of the certified adjusting station for the adjustment of headlights, Will H. Marsh, superintendent of the division of motor vehicles, today issued a warning to station owners that in cases in which excessive charges are proved, adjusting station certificates will be revoked.

Pointing out that the department has prescribed no fixed charge, Marsh, in an official statement, said that an ordinary adjustment should be made for not to exceed 75 cents.

"It also has come to the attention of the division that a number of headlight lens manufactory and distributors are selling headlight lens and devices which are not in conformity with those tested at the state's testing agency," says the statement.

"While these lens carry the name under which approval has been granted they are in reality entirely dissimilar devices. Tests are to be made on some of these devices in the near future and, if the report is proved to be true, prosecution under the provisions of the new act of those involved will be made. Likewise a prohibition against the sale of the lenses will be authorized until such time as the manufacturers are able to satisfy the department of the kind and type of lenses on which they have received approval."

"Request has been made for the registration of trucks and other vehicles equipped with coal oil lamps and other devices not approved by the department, on the grounds that the machines are operated in the daytime only."

The law states that every machine sold or offered for sale for operation on the public highways must be equipped in compliance with the specifications prescribed, none of which specifications permit the use of any except approved headlight devices and lenses. The department, therefore, has ruled that every vehicle operated on the public highways, whether in daytime or night, must be properly equipped."

USE OF NEW METAL WITHSTANDS TESTS

The results anticipated by the Hupp Motor Car corporation, the first manufacturer with large distribution to combine aluminum connecting rods with aluminum copper pistons, have been confirmed in tests which show that this combination, plus the counterbalanced crankshaft, is responsible for a number of the greater performing abilities in its new cars, says Otto Haan, of the Cadillac Garage company, Huppmobile dealer.

"Duralumin, as its name implies, is a metal more durable than aluminum," said Haan.

"It is composed of aluminum, manganese, silicon, copper and iron. These tougher metals, fused with aluminum in their proper proportions, result in a product that has even greater strength in compressibility than steel, and one admirably adapted to usage in the modern efficient motor car, inasmuch as it materially lessens weight without decreasing strength, increases power, and adds to the economy and smoothness in operation."

DRIVE CURBING INTERSECTION SPEEDERS

According to Chief of Police Claude Rogers, the recently inaugurated campaign against automobile drivers who speed across street intersections here in violation of the state law is a success. During the month of October motorcycle officers arrested seventy-six as speeders, a majority of these being for intersection violations.

Rogers said today that the campaign has had a tendency to decrease all speeding, especially in the business and more densely populated residential sections of the city.

"Within two days after opening the campaign traffic officers reported that auto drivers had reduced the speed of their driving along the main business streets of the city," said Rogers. "Before the opening of the campaign many motorists were in the habit of stepping on the gas between blocks, even on Fourth street. If there was no traffic officer at the street intersection they would shoot across without a thought of other cars or pedestrians. All of this stopped with the opening of the campaign."

"The business district has a speed limit of fifteen miles an hour, with a ten-mile limit at street intersections. In the residential section the limit is twenty miles an hour between blocks and fifteen miles at street crossings. Motorcycle officers have been instructed to enforce rigidly this intersection speed law."

"This campaign against speeders was inaugurated not only to protect pedestrians, but also to protect the motorists themselves. In the business district an automobile driver speeds up to a street and in many cases his vision of the intersection is obscured by buildings; another automobile approaches the crossing from another direction and the motorist crosses an intersection at 10 miles an hour his car is under control and the danger from collision is reduced almost 100 per cent."

"This campaign will be perpetual and will be followed more closely in the business and congested districts. On the outskirts of the city the officers will not be so strict, as traffic is not so heavy and danger from collisions is less."

SHOW INTEREST IN NEW STAR CAR MODEL

So prompt and generous has been the response to the showing of the new Star models, announced last Saturday, that the entire staff of the Appleby Motor company has been kept busy showing and explaining features of the new model, according to R. L. Joyner, local manager of the company.

"We are advised by the plant in Oakland that there will be no shortage on these popular cars, but we are almost inclined to be a little alarmed lest production be found to run short of the demand," added Joyner.

"The beauty and general excellence of the cars has had even more than the estimated effect on car buyers. These qualities have been all that many people have been waiting for, since the essential strength and perfection of the chassis have been known and appreciated correctly from their first introduction just over a year ago. "There were refinements missed by some in those first cars, which are now included in greater degree than could have been deemed possible in any but a much higher priced car. The new lines of body, the graceful lineaments of the radiator, all the additional appointments, the strengthening of frame of body, the improved door curtains, which now open at the same time as the doors themselves—these features have carried their message to the public."

"A Durant-built car stands for high excellence out here, and with the facilities which have been afforded buyers to examine and become familiar with the chassis structure of the Star car, no slightest doubt of its great, outstanding merits has ever existed."

Since the addition to this structural excellence of an equal standard of beauty and refinement, the demand for the Star car has become a thing difficult to satisfy."

TOBACCO BURNED
DENVER, Nov. 6.—Warden Thomas Tynan has ordered that women prisoners in the Colorado state penitentiary are not to be permitted to smoke, though men prisoners may go on smoking as before, with a tobacco ration issued to them. Four fifths of the women smoke and to protests against this order the warden said: "It doesn't look well to see women smoke. If they want to smoke let them keep out of the penitentiary."

RESIDENCE SITE SOON TO HOLD NEW GARAGE, AUTO FIRM REVEALS

Property In 900 Block on North Main Doomed to Give Way to Cars

SEES BUSINESS STREET

Modern Home For Packard and Reo Lines to Be One-Story Plant

H. H. Dale and company by the first of the year will have a new home for the Packard and Reo agencies—and it will be located on North Main street, in the heart of what is now a residence district.

That a new garage for the firm is to go up at once on the site now occupied by the residence at 902 North Main street, was revealed today. Preparations were being made for moving the residence to the southwest corner of Sycamore and Tenth streets.

Wayland Wood is the owner of the property and, following removal of the dwelling, will at once start the work of constructing the garage building.

According to Dale, the new building will be a one-story structure, 50x125 feet, and will be built along modern lines for automobile agencies.

Stating that work on construction will be rushed with all possible speed, Dale said he expected to be in the new building by the first of the coming year.

Pointing out that it generally is conceded that North Main street is destined to be strictly a commercial thoroughfare, Dale said he had secured the location in the belief that it is only a matter of time when other business enterprises will be developed even further north on the street than his new location.

Mrs. Sadie Haynes, tenant, will continue to occupy the residence to be moved, and Miss Bertha Seller announced today that she would continue to maintain her studio in the dwelling.

YOUNGSTERS OF S. A. TO WRITE ON SAFETY

According to an announcement made today by Elmer Heidt, manager of the Santa Ana branch of the Automobile Club of Southern California, it is time fathers were "brushing up" on points as to highway safety.

He said, would be but a matter of a few days when kiddies will be asking their father what he knows about safety habits children should know.

Their questions, he said, will be the result of the national safety essay contest for youngsters aged 14 years or less, which will be inaugurated here in a representative of the highway education board of Washington, D. C., soon would be here to interest school children of Santa Ana in the essay contest. The contest will close December 4, and essays will be limited to 500 words, Heidt said.

Pointing out that all children of the nation will be permitted to enter the contest, Heidt said the first prize would be a free trip to Washington, D. C., and a gold watch. He added that gold watches also would be offered as second and third prizes.

It is the third annual contest and is designed to further education in safety among the little folk. Essays will be turned into grade teachers, he advised. The club, he said, is cooperating in every possible way with the highway education board.

NEW RULING TO GOVERN PLEAS OF ALIENS

That county superior courts in handling naturalization classes, will be governed by a new ruling of the federal district court in Los Angeles, which admits aliens to citizenship even though they claimed exemption during the World War, was today expressed as the opinion of County Clerk J. M. Backs.

Heretofore aliens who advanced their non-citizenship as grounds for claiming military exemption have been automatically barred from becoming naturalized, a number of such cases having been rejected in the superior court of Orange county.

Under the new ruling by Federal Judge Bledsoe, aliens who have made their declaration of intention since the armistice was declared, November 11, 1918, may apply for naturalization, or final papers, at any time after the statutory five-year period.

In giving the ruling Judge Bledsoe said that "to permit such civil delinquents to remain in our midst and yet to deny them the proud privilege of American citizenship, is to foster a menace. It could not be otherwise than that, as the years progressed, living with us, yet not of us, they would become morose and probably hostile and capable of working infinite danger to us and to our beloved institutions."

The opinion of Judge Bledsoe was rendered in the case of John F. Lindner, German subject, who had once been rejected as a citizen because he claimed exemption as an alien from war service, but who later requested leave to file a new application.

Brothers To ontest Will of Alberto Rosa

When the will of the late Alberto Rosa comes before Superior Judge Graham for admission to probate, upon the petition of a daughter, Mrs. Cezira Brinzo, 177 Twenty-eighth street, executrix and chief legatee, there will be two contests to be considered. The second contest, that of a son, Duilio Rosa, 156 Twenty-eighth street, was filed in the probate court. Luigi Rosa of Daly City, a second son who was cut off with an inheritance of $50, has previously appeared and asked that the courts fail to recognize the will dated May 2, 1923, a few weeks before the father's death. The estate is estimated at $250,000.

Both contestants allege mental incompetence on the part of their parent and undue influence exercised by their sister.

Revenues of Haiti Show Big Increase

PORT AU PRINCE, Nov. 10.—In marked contrast to the conditions prevailing in the majority of islands of the West Indies and the Latin-American countries of Central America, Haiti's fiscal year has shown a gratifying and substantial progress.

The fiscal year that closed on September 30, according to the annual reports submitted to Brigadier-General Russell, the American High Commissioner to Haiti, showed a total income of $6,496,889 from the collection of customs and internal revenues. This is an increase over the last previous fiscal year of $1,195,998.

A significant factor in the improved economic condition of the island is the fact that, as the monthly returns show, this year had no so-called dead season.

WHEAT FOR CATTLE
HUTCHINSON, Kans., Nov. 10.—A big movement of cattle into western Kansas to be pastured on wheat is under way. Farmers are bringing in cattle and others are leasing to stockmen. E. E. Frizell is bringing in 500 yearling steers from Dalhart, Tex., to pasture on his Pawnee county ranch.

Santa Cruz Summit Road Is Proposed

SAN JOSE, Nov. 10.—First steps toward the construction of a new road from Saratoga to the summit of the Santa Cruz mountains, which will serve the double purpose of providing an easy grade by the Santa Cruz county route to the entrance of the "Big Basin" State Redwood park and a lateral connecting the Skyline boulevard to Santa Clara county, were taken at a meeting of the county board of supervisors, when they authorized the employment of private subscription of a capable engineer to survey for the new road.

Representatives of San Jose, Saratoga, Los Gatos and other county organizations appeared before the board and emphasized the need for the new road. When the supervisors stated that no money was at present available for the survey, proponents of the road offered to raise the amount necessary by popular subscription, if the county surveyor would recommend some one capable of doing the work. To this the board of supervisors acceded, agreeing that chairmen and other assistants would be provided by the county.

KIWANIANS PLAN SCHOOL

AUTO SHOW AT L. A. IS LURE FOR THRONG

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—Unprecedented in completeness, and unparalleled in beauty, the eleventh annual Los Angeles Automobile show opened here this afternoon. The biggest affair of its kind ever staged by the local motor car dealers drew thousands of visitors to admire motordom's latest creations.

More than 55 different makes of cars are included in this year's displays. Stock cars, sport and custom built jobs, and all manner of latest automotive creations are being exhibited. Closed models cleaned the lion's share of the attention, and more of this type are on display this year than ever before.

The exhibits are housed under three big tents at Prager park. Artists have so cleverly camouflaged the canvas and the supporting poles, however, that the big "tops" have been transformed into a veritable automotive fairy-land.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The American debt refunding commission has completed the draft of its report to be made to congress. The Cuban obligation, amounting to about $8,000,000, has been paid in full. ## SAYS USED CAR ADVERTISING ESSENTIAL

Automobile dealers who employed advertising in newspaper in the sale of used cars sold three times as many used automobiles and for higher average prices than did the dealers who did not use such advertising. This is a statement by Lynn M. Shaw, assistant general manager of the National Automobile Dealers' association, who worked out these results as one phase of his study of the used car business.

"Another interesting phase of this study was that dealers in cities of more than 25,000 population sold a higher average number of used automobiles and for higher average sale prices," says Shaw. "But they also paid more per car in advertising. The figures were taken from reports of 264 dealers in cities of more than 25,000, and 430 dealers in cities of less than that population. These cities are in eighteen states in which are concentrated 61 per cent of all the dealers, 62 per cent of the registered automobiles and 64 per cent of the population. They include Chicago, New York and St. Louis. They also include several small towns.

"Twice as many dealers, in the small towns sold only one-third as many automobiles and at about half the average selling price, as did the dealers in the large cities. The cost of advertising per car in the large cities averaged $7.19 as compared to $1.98 in the small cities.

Several hundred dealers reported that they did not spend any money in newspaper advertising. It is significant that their sales were one-third of the volume, in the big cities for three-fourths the

S. A. FLOATS ENTERED FOR PAGEANT ARE ELABORATE

Prepared to take an active part in the great Armistice day celebration scheduled for Orange next Monday morning, scores of men, women and children here today were feverishly working out last-minute plans for the respective floats, decorated automobiles, and other units to be entered in the mammoth historical pageant, due to start at 10 a. m.

Tonight at the Elks club, final dress rehearsal for "General Washington and his army," will be held under direction of Albert J. Perkins, in charge of arrangements for the float to be entered by Santa Ana lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E.

Parade to Start at 10

This float, which will contain a horse for "General Washington," will be symbolical of Washington in the act of taking command of his armies. Those representing Washington's army of 16,000 men will be Herman Zabel, Tom Weston, Walter Collins, Ben Patton, C. C. Taylor, E. R. Christenson, Frank Hoffman, Bert Gridley and Bert Campbell. Washington will be represented by Tom Lewis.

According to H. G. Upham, grand marshal, the parade will start promptly at 10 a. m., with the explosion of a huge smoke bomb above Orange. Eighty-seven floats will be entered and beautiful silver cups will be awarded the winners. Six bands and two drum corps will furnish music. Upham said the parade probably will be four miles long.

A football game in the afternoon and an organ concert at the high school will also be featured. It was estimated 40,000 persons will witness the parade. Between 3,000 and 4,000 will have active parts in the long procession.

Three floats from the high school and junior college will be placed as "Patrick Henry's Speech to the Assembly," the high school float; "Concord Bridge," from the junior college, and the "American Red Cross," from the junior college Y. W. C. A.

The high school float has been planned by Miss Minna Mae Lewis, of the public speaking department, and is being arranged under the direction of Miss Floy Donaldson, head of the art department. John Harper debating manager for the high school, will represent Patrick Henry and a group of twenty high school boys will constitute the assembly. These will be seated on the float, which will be arranged to represent the assembly chamber.

To Show Concord Bridge

A miniature replica of Concord bridge as it stands today, which is exactly like the bridge of the revolutionary period, will be built upon the junior college float. The statue of the minute man which selling price; in the smaller cities one-half the number of sales and about 17 per cent less on the average sales price.

In California, forty-two advertising dealers, making reports on which Shaw based his conclusions, sold 9999 used cars at an average advertising cost of $7.45. It is disclosed in Shaw's statement.

now stands on Concord field will be represented by Herbert Sammis, who will wear a uniform and carry a gun like those of the original minute man and by his side will be the plow.

Under the direction of Mrs. Robert Northcross, Dean of Women of the college, and Overton Luhr, president of the college student body, the float will be built to represent peace and not war. Mrs. Northcross explained that the plow will emphasize the fact that the minute man has been called away from his plow to defend his country and will return to it when the war is over.

Symbolic of a name which is known wherever Americans have gone will be the Red Cross float planned and executed by the girls of the junior college Y. W. C. A. under the direction of Miss Isabel Anderson, secretary and Miss Alla Neely.

Other Floats

A huge red cross will be covered with red geraniums. At the base of the cross will be four college girls in white nurses' uniforms.

Girls who will represent South American countries on the Rotary club float are Mathilde Goy, Anita Mercado, Hortense and Beatrice Barrios, Julia Balfes, Faustina Lucero, Delphina Lopez and Josephine Rodriguez. These girls will wear costumes of the countries of Central and South America and Mexico, which were made independent in 1823.

Representing the protection provided the Southern countries by the United States will be a Goddess of Liberty in costume, and a soldier and a sailor in the uniforms of 1823. Miss Virginia Stewart will represent the Goddess of Liberty.

GO-ED WINS IN STOCK JUDGE CONTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Upsetting tradition Miss Bertha Underhill, a student in the college of agriculture at the University of California, carried off first honors in the stock-judging contest held this week at the International Live Stock show in Portland, Oregon, in competition with men from twelve universities throughout the country.

Miss Underhill, a member of the University of California team, was the only woman judge sent to the Portland show, and won first honors with a score of 937 points, her nearest competitor being one from the University of British Columbia, who won 933 points out of the possible 1000.

Although a city-bred girl, Miss Underhill early evinced great interest in live stock and when she entered the university she determined to major in animal husbandry. She is studying at the university farm at Davis and taking the regular full course along with her male colleagues. On Picnic day, held at Davis last May, Miss Underhill won the Anita Baldwin cup offered for the best judge of horses.

Despite the fact that Miss Underhill won first honors at Portland the University of California team fell to second place in the team contest. Members of the team were Warden Wilbur, Davis; William Hesselkus, Genesee; Clyde de Vilbiss, Modesto; Arthur Greaser, Pomona, and H. H. Peters, San Francisco, all students at Davis.

The team won first place for judges of beef cattle and thereby retained the trophy won by the University for three consecutive years.

Miss Underhill lives with her parents at 2336 Channing way, Berkeley, when not at school in Davis.

Ford Four-Door Sedan

$685, f. o. b. Detroit, fully equipped.

Inside and out, the new Ford Four-door Sedan shows improvements of far more than usual importance.

It is lower and sturdier in appearance. New cowl, hood, radiator and apron add size and finish to the front. Sun visor, and wide, well-finished aluminum doors with bar handles perfect the design of the body.

The lasting lustre of the exterior finish is equalled in richness by the soft brown shades of the silk window curtains and the deep broadcloth upholstery.

Dome light, door locks, window regulators and handles, all finished in nickel, complete a refinement you would expect only at a far higher price.

Convenience, utility and economy have established Ford supremacy. The Four-Door Sedan adds to these factors greater Ford prestige.

COUNTY VALENCIANS HIGH IN NEW YORK

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 10.—(Of the Fruit World.)—There are a few cars of Valencia oranges for shipment from Orange county this week, leaving the field for the movement of new crop.

The Valencia market has shown remarkable strength at the close of the season, as high as $4.50 per box average having been realized in the New York market on best stock from Orange county. The late Valencia oranges are giving satisfaction and are given preference over the early Florida oranges now on the market.

Make First Shipments
The reported shipment of a number of Valencia oranges from Orange county this week ushered in the opening of the Valencia season in New York. The first week in advance of last season.

Thompson's improved variety of Valencia have been the required sugar content and color. Picking of the Valencia oranges has commenced throughout the Central California orange belt. Light rainfall was reported from Central California and shipping season may delay pickings.

F. O. B. California quotations, usual terms, on Thompson improved Valencia opened this week on a basis of $4.50 per box.

Fear Over-estimation
Owing to the heavy run of small sizes and to the fact that in many cases the oranges are mostly on the outside of the trees, there is a tendency on the part of some estimators to over-estimate the 1923-24 crop. Estimates of from 60,000 to 75,000 cars are taken of an against 55,000 cars for the season last closed and 60,000 for the 1922-23 season which was the heaviest in the history of the industry.

A re-check of the estimate from all districts is under way but has not been completed. Shippers who have carefully gone over the important shipping districts of Central California report a heavy crop of Valencia oranges on the outside of the trees, necessitating the picking of the outer limbs. On the inside of the trees the yield is light. Recent reports of a 10,000 car orange crop from the Central district is considered excessive.

In Southern California districts the small size of the fruit will also have an important bearing on the crop estimate. The new acreage in Valencia that is coming into bearing will bring the Valencia estimate close to that of Navel for the 1923-24 season. A majority of the interior districts of the Valencia yield is not checking out heavy.

Picking of Navel in the Highland and West Highland districts commenced this week. The first car went out on Tuesday.

Big Florida Crop
Late reports from Florida show an estimated crop of 12,000,000 boxes of oranges and 8,000,000 boxes (20,000 cars) of grapefruit, an increase of 500 cars oranges and 2,000 cars grapefruit over the 1922-23 season.

With this quantity of true fruit to be marketed from Florida and a big apple crop that is being marketed at reasonable prices in California, any attempt to rush immature unmarketable fruit to market will result in disaster.

California orange shipments for the month of November last season totaled 165,000 cars, an average of 5,500 cars per day. The first half of November the movement averaged 5,500 cars per day, the second half the average daily movement increased to 6,200 cars.

For the month of December shipments totaled 170,000 cars, an average daily movement of 5,600 cars. The first half of the month the average daily movement was 5,600 cars, dropping to 6,200 cars daily for the last half of the month.

Lemon Demand Dull
There is very little demand for California lemons owing to unfavorable weather conditions. Pickings are increasing.

P. O. B. California quotations are on a basis of $2.50 to $4.00 per box according to size.

There are on hand and available for sale within the next thirty days in all United States ports, approximately 4 cars of foreign lemons. For the corresponding period last season there were 122 cars; 1921, 76 cars; 1920, 67 cars and 1919, 148 cars.

ORANGE READY FOR THROUGHS
ON MONDAY50,000 People Expected to Attend Celebration of Armistice Day

ORANGE, Nov. 10.—All business establishments, save cafes, restaurants and eating houses, will pause in the business whirl here Monday in respect to the fourth annual Orange county Armistice Day.

A proclamation to this effect was issued by William Hagen, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association.

Transact No Business
No business will be transacted during the day, the merchants, their employees and families taking the day off to witness and participate in the celebration being held here on that day.

Similar proclamations are to be issued by other county cities, and no business will be in progress throughout the county.

Bringing recollections of those war-torn days of 1918, an aerial bomb exploding high over the city, flinging a tracing of the American flag across the azure sky, 2,000 feet in the air, will officially signalize the opening of the fourth annual Orange county Armistice Day celebration Monday morning.

From a specially constructed trench, the bomb will be sent hurtling into the air at ten o'clock as a signal for the start of the parade which will probably take its place in the most spectacular event of its kind in the annals of Orange county.

Expect 50,000 People
Between 40,000 and 50,000 persons from all over the Southland will crane their necks skyward as the bomb shoots through the air, scattering a spray of red, white and blue fire across the sky in a flag design.

At that signal proclaiming the signing of the Armistice five years and one day ago ending the great world conflict, the parade depicting in historical sequence the outstanding episodes of the American history will pass down local streets through a canyon of flags.

The parade, the magnitude of which has never before been attempted in Orange county, represents a carefully formed plan to give the people of the entire Southland a picture of the events and characters in American history believed by all true Americans.

Led by an official escort, headed by Mayor Harry G. Upham, Orange, as grand marshal, with the Santa Ana national guard and Orange county's naval reserve in full regalia, under arms, bringing up the rear, uniformed legionnaires, who cranked in the world war, and other uniformed organizations will march before the fleet section, adding a distinct military flavor to the occasion.

Six Bands to Play
The cadence of the march will be established by six bands and two drum corps. Carrying on the military atmosphere, an army grandstand, seating more than two hundred persons, will be erected on vacant property at the corner of Grand street and Chapman avenue. The stand will be occupied by the judges, J. F. Collins, state commander of the American Legion and more than 100 newspaper editors representing the Southern California Editorial association in addition to county and city officials who will review the parade as it swings down Chapman avenue.

The route of the parade as officially decided will be west on E. Chapman Ave., starting at Cambridge street to the plaza, south to Almond avenue, west on Almond to Cypress street, north on Cypress to Chapman, east on Chapman to the plaza, then north on Glassell street to Walnut avenue where it will disband between Collins and Avenue.

The throngs will be urged to gather along the side streets as much as possible as the plaza and downtown streets will be jammed, there being less chance to get an unrestricted view of the spectacle.

All traffic into the city will be diverted down South Glassell street from Grand avenue, down La Veta avenue from Main street, down Batavia to Walnut from the west, down North Glassell street to Collins thence onto side streets leading into town.

The east end of town will be absolutely closed to traffic except to floats. Tustin street will be closed at Walnut street and Palmyra avenue where traffic officers will be stationed to head off the travel sending it into town down these two streets.

Arrange For First Aid
A first aid station will be established in the plaza by the Orange county hospital and two nurses and a first aid physician will be kept in readiness to handle any prostration cases or accidents which may occur. An ambulance will be held in readiness in event of extreme emergency.

Fifty boys, representing the Orange Y. M. C. A., under the direction of C. E. Morrow, secretary, will be scattered along the line of march to supply general information pertaining to the celebration of all visitors. They will be armed with data covering every phase of the affair.

Oil Leases Sought
At Villa Park By Several Companies

VILLA PARK, Nov. 10.—A 200-acre community lease, taking in Villa Park ranch holdings, is being sought by various oil concerns, it was learned today following a meeting of ranchers at the Central Lemon packing house at Villa Park last night.

Various details pertaining to the offers made by the companies were discussed at the meeting at which W. E. Anderson of Orange, acted as secretary.

"A number of big oil concerns have made attractive offers for a community lease totaling nearly 200 acres" one of the ranchers interested in the scheme said today.

It is understood that between fifteen and twenty ranchers are planning to pool their holdings in the prospective lease.

The lease lies between Collins avenue and Villa Park road and Tustin and Wanda streets.

NEW OFFICERS FOR PLAYERS SELECTED

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 10.—At a recent meeting of the dramatic section of the Laguna Beach community club a number of people were appointed to positions of definite assistance to the organization. The Players section of the Community club is a self-sustaining membership organization and the stage and property staffs must therefore be composed of interested members of the community.

Everyone enters into the spirit of co-operation and the sets and scenery are planned and executed by the residents, always under the supervision of Madame Ann Dare, the director of plays and players.

At a meeting Andrew S. Hall was elected stage manager, to be assisted by Ralph Sorin. Alex Gingsas was appointed stage carpenter and Harlan Durand has charge of lighting, while George Jones is the electrician. These officers will act in the interest of the club and are all willing co-operators with Madame Ann Dare.

On November 17 the Los Angeles Laboratory Players will give a program of four one-act plays that were pronounced successes in their own field. These players will write and direct their own plays under the supervision of the director, Mr. Snowden. The four one-act plays will be produced in the Community Club hall, which seats approximately 125 and reservations can now be made. The proceeds will go to the Laguna Beach community club and the public is invited.

CIRCUS TO WINTER
ON ANAHEIM GROUND

ANAHEIM, Nov. 10.—The Golden Circus company has taken a lease on a large warehouse of the Randolph Marketing company here and during the winter the animals, said to consist of one of the largest groups of any circus, will be quartered here.

The circus is a four ring affair and will give a charity performance here November 17 under the auspices of the local lodge of Elks for the Christmas fund of the lodge.

The 1924 season will be opened here March 17. More than 200 persons are employed by the circus during the winter. Last winter the circus was quartered at Fort Dodge, Iowa, and spent more than $50,000 during the time it was there, the showmen said.

The route of the parade as officially decided will be west on E. Chapman Ave., starting at Cambridge street to the plaza, south to Almond avenue, west on Almond to Cypress street, north on Cypress to Chapman, east on Chapman to the plaza, then north on Glassell street to Walnut avenue where it will disband between Collins and Avenue.

The throngs will be urged to gather along the side streets as much as possible as the plaza and downtown streets will be jammed, there being less chance to get an unrestricted view of the spectacle.

All traffic into the city will be diverted down South Glassell street from Grand avenue, down La Veta avenue from Main street, down Batavia to Walnut from the west, down North Glassell street to Collins thence onto side streets leading into town.

The east end of town will be absolutely closed to traffic except to floats. Tustin street will be closed at Walnut street and Palmyra avenue where traffic officers will be stationed to head off the travel sending it into town down these two streets.

Arrange For First Aid
A first aid station will be established in the plaza by the Orange county hospital and two nurses and a first aid physician will be kept in readiness to handle any prostration cases or accidents which may occur. An ambulance will be held in readiness in event of extreme emergency.

Fifty boys, representing the Orange Y. M. C. A., under the direction of C. E. Morrow, secretary, will be scattered along the line of march to supply general information pertaining to the celebration of all visitors. They will be armed with data covering every phase of the affair.

MOTHER COLONY
S. A. TO WRITE
SCHOOL WINS

ANAHEIM, Nov. 10.—Anaheim union high school this spring will be the host to the semi-annual convention of the Southern California Press association, the first school outside of Los Angeles to have the honor.

This was the word brought back today by the local high school delegation which attended the conference at Huntington Park Friday. Bert F. Steelhead, journalism teacher; Constance Williams, editor of the Anorance; William Cottrell and Lloyd Ross represented the local school.

Every other Orange county high school, with the exception of Garden Grove, was represented. The Junior Register was largely responsible for the strong Orange county delegation and had its editor and one of The Register staff men present.

Tustin Girl Nominated
Miss Florence Boosey, editor of the Tustin high school paper, was placed in nomination for secretary and received the second largest number of votes. She got greater support than three candidates from Los Angeles schools. The place went to Santa Paula.

It was literally Orange county day at the conference. This county had the second largest delegation present, being beaten only by the Los Angeles county schools. Some of the latter schools sent as many as six voting delegates.

The editor of the Junior Register proposed, and the idea was accepted by the conference, that a committee be named to draw up a code of ethics for the association. Anaheim high school is leading a movement for the re-writing of the constitution, which was found to be faulty in several instances.

Register Man Speaks
The main address of the day was delivered by T. E. Stephenson, managing editor of the Santa Ana Register. He outlined the qualifications of a reporter. Other newspaper men who spoke were Harry A. Williams of the Los Angeles Times and Reuben Dorough of the Los Angeles Record.

A sumptuous luncheon, at which chicken was the piece de resistance, was served by Huntington Park high school in the school cafeteria at noon.

In the afternoon there was a lively discussion of the subject of high school annual advertising. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that the advertising matter should be accepted and the burden on the students be made as light as possible.

Mr. Steelhead, the Anaheim journalism instructor, said he expected all the Orange county journalism classes to co-operate in making the Anaheim convention the best ever held.

BEACH PARADE
WINS FAVOR

Headed by the Santa Ana high school band, and followed by a float displaying products of the Santa Ana Woolen mills and private cars, the Santa Ana board of Realtors today led Section B of the carnival of estates parade at Long Beach.

According to reports from the beach city, the Santa Ana contingent made a good impression and created a great deal of interest in Santa Ana by distribution of apples, walnuts, oranges and advertising literature along the parade route.

Ten boxes of oranges, eight sacks of Diamond brand walnuts, ten boxes of apples, and 1000 pieces of Santa Ana literature were distributed.

Each of the sixteen machines in line carried a quantity of the materials.

The Realtors gathered at 8 a. m. today on North Broadway, opposite the court house, and went to the carnival in a caravan. Santa Ana banners identified the machines. The high school band was transported in a Crown State company bus.

George Dunton, local Ford, Lincoln and Fordson dealer, today announced a reduction of $9.40 on Fordson tractors, the retail price here now being $503. The decrease is due to a reduction in freight rates on the tractor, Dunton said.

SEEK WORK FOR EX-SERVICE
MEN HERE

Do you know of a job?
A job for an ex-service man? If you do, tell Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, about it.

That was the appeal made to the public today by the service organization through its welfare committee, which is in charge of the task of finding needy ex-service men with available jobs.

The committee has been doing much good work along that line, it was stated, and can do much more with the co-operation of the employers or the public generally.

Many worthy ex-service men have been lined up with steady employment in Santa Ana, and numerous requests from others are being received daily by the welfare committee, according to the announcement.

Any employer who needs a man, or anyone who knows where a job is open, will do an appreciated favor by notifying the committee, it was said. Members of the committee are C. W. Nussbaumer, at the Electric Shoe Shop, 219 West Fourth street; Fred Parker, member of the merchants' police, City Attorney Z. B. West Jr., at the city hall; and W. K. Getty, at the G. and G. Metal shops, 419 East Fourth street.

Post Commander Ed McFadden, at the McFadden Hardware store, and Adjutant Clyde Whitney, at the Orange County Title company offices, will also receive communications concerning jobs, it was said.

War Casualties Hit
37,000,000 Men;
Real Lesson Seen

ORANGE, Nov. 10.—Monday will see the fifth anniversary of the signing of the armistice which led later to the signing of the peace of Versailles. But, according to Major H. G. Upham, county commander of the American Legion and largely responsible for the pageant to be given here Monday, the American people have no occasion to sit back on their haunches and forget.

Major Upham pointed out today that under arms in the great war were more than 65,000,000 men.

That out of this number 37,000,000 suffered casualties or death.

Consider the 37,000,000 dead or wounded men and the true lesson of Armistice day is learned, the county commander said.

LAGUNA BEACH
CELEBRATION IS SUNDAY

All-Star Baseball Team to Meet Irvine Team
Armistice Day

BY JEANNE DE AHNA.

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 10.—In celebration of the dedication of the Skidmore park recently presented to Laguna Beach by the Skidmore brothers, and in honor of the fifth anniversary of Armistice Day and as a benefit for the Community Club building fund, a day of sport will be proffered the public the morning and early afternoon of the day set aside in memory of our heroes.

To Open New Park.

The ground selected for the location of the park is one of the most attractive of scenic bits of property around the town. It is situated approximately one mile from Laguna Beach on the main drive to Santa Ana and has all the requisites of a natural park with beautiful trees, many sloping climbs, shady nooks and a flat of about three acres. The property line of this plot of ground begins at what is called the Big Bend and extends back from the road for several hundred yards, including the hill to the crest. Driving north the park is on the right of the road and lies in the natural amphitheater of hills and trees.

At present a crew of several men are at work on laying a diamond which will be utilized on the day of the fete by two select teams. The opponents selected for Laguna is the strong semi-professional Irvine team. The team selected to play for Laguna is an aggregation of stars from the American and National leagues and the Pacific Coast league, the majority of whom are internationally famous and individually would draw enormous crowds in their league towns. Of these Bob and "Irish" Meusel are perhaps the best known on the Pacific coast, due to the fact that their winter home is in Los Angeles and that they are native sons of California. But the names of Thurston of the White Sox, Stutz of the Cubs, Sands of the Phillies, Jones of the Tigers and Jimmie Austin of the St. Louis Browns are eye-openers, too, and each man comes not only highly recommended by the followers of the game, but cited as excellent players in the scores of years of playing in the big leagues. "Lefty" Thomas was one of the most popular of Los Angeles' southpaw pitchers last season and will take his place on Armistice Day on the mound for Laguna Beach. Byler is also another of the Pacific league's famous players and will be in uniform on that day. A comedy could be written on the antics of Carl Sawyer for he is known the world over as a comedian of the greatest repertoire, rivaling the famous Washington clown. His witty brain puts forth many hearty laughs during a game and not once does he miss playing a brilliant game of ball.

Barbecue and Boxing, Too.
In addition to the baseball game, a barbecue and three boxing bouts by semi-professional pugilists will also add an attraction to the day's sports. The bouts are in charge of Louis Burnham and are already scheduled for appearance. A unique race, with a silver cup as prize, will be a feature of the day, the cup being presented by the Skidmore brothers. The winner will hold it only as long as he is able to hold the title, as it is intended that it shall be a yearly event of the beach to contest for it. The race consists of a climb by foot of the 100 foot incline to the top and back the runner returning first being pronounced victorious. No route has been laid out, the contestants being permitted to choose their own.

Playing is scheduled to start at 10 a. m. and as a large crowd is anticipated it would be well to come early. Provision has also been made for parking of cars and county traffic policemen will have charge of all thoroughfares.

Stork Records Show
More Boys Than Girls

ANAHEIM, Nov. 10.—W. B. Martick, keeper of the stork records for the Anaheim district, reported yesterday that during the month of October, 27 new citizens, including 19 boys and 8 girls, were welcomed in the homes here.

The records revealed that this was the first time in the history of the city that the stork has shown such marked favoritism for the boys.

Robert and William were the preferred names, three babies receiving each of these cognomens. The name Charles was bestowed upon two of the new little citizens. A different name was selected for each girl, it was stated.

BAKER LETS BONDS STICK TWO ROUNDS

Colored Heavy Easy Victor at Beach Arena; Draw Decisions Plentiful

FIGHT RESULTS
Sam Baker stopped Joe Bonds, third round.
Johnny Conley, Young Roy Moore—draw.
Kid Walker, Paul DeHate—draw.
Marty Kane stopped Jack Lewis, third round.
John Austin, Battling Ward—draw.
Skip Leabo won from Tony Lopez, decision.

By RINGSIDER
When we pulled in from the Huntington Beach boxing arena last night the first thing we consulted was Tom Andrews' record book of past and present fighters. We wanted to be sure of this fellow Joe Bonds.

There, in the well known black and white, was the positive proof that one Joe Bonds lasted ten rounds with Jack Dempsey in the year 1916.

Dempsey must have been an awful ham in 1916. How Bonds could ever stick ten rounds with anyone, let alone Dempsey, is beyond us.

Baker Easy Victor
Bonds stuck two rounds and fifteen seconds with Sam Baker, giant colored heavyweight, at Huntington Beach last night chiefly because Baker wanted him to stick that long. The colored boxer stalled through the first round, hammered Bonds sick the second and won by a technical knockout in the third when Bonds' corner hurried in the towel. It was a poor main event. Any of the other six bouts would have been ten times better.

Johnny Conley took four rounds from Young Roy Moore but that was all. Did he take the decision? He did not. Conley scored a clean knockdown in the fourth round forced the fighting all the way.

A Little Worse
The Paul DeHate-Kid Walker decision was just a little worse—not much but some. DeHate beat Walker to the punch continually and had a knockdown to his credit as well. Did he get the decision? He did not.

The only reason Marty Kane, Santa Ana boy, didn't get a draw too was because he finished his opponent, Frisco Jack Lewis, in the third round with a hard right to the stomach.

John Austin and Battling Ward got a draw after four rounds of wallowing.

Skip Leabo hit too hard for Tony Lopez and won the only decision of the evening. His margin was too great to be called even-Stephen.

MANY BIG CONTESTS ON SCHEDULE TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Many brave hearts will be asleep in the depths of despair and others will beat high with joy tonight for this is the crucial day for at least two teams in the best football circuits on the Pacific coast.

California meets University of California at Los Angeles and the Bears think so much of the game that most of the University student body went down to howl the team to victory.

At Portland Stanford meets Oregon's fast stepping webfoots. The coast has its money and its pigskin eye on these two contests. California is regarded as a slight favorite to win, while Stanford enjoys heavier odds.

Washington, ranked next to California in prowess, meets Montana in a battle at Seattle which should be easy for the huskies. Oregon Aggies are conceded the victory with Idaho at Boise. Utah plays the College of Colorado at Colorado Springs. Nevada meets Fresno State college at Reno. Whitman and Gonzaga are playing their annual game at Spokane.

In the south Pomona plays Whittier at Claremont, University of Redlands meets University of California, southern branch at Los Angeles.

Monday Occidental battles California Tech at Pasadena.

They're Happy As In Memoriam Wins

This trio has cause to rejoice. They are, left to right: R. J. Gilmore, trainer of In Memoriam; Jockey Mack Garner, who rode the mount to victory over Zev and My Own, and Carl Wiedemann, owner of the horse.

gets which baseball men figure they have the sole right to—without cost.

Financial hazards have come to be big factors in the play of star athletes. Chick Evans, famous golfer, said recently that business worries, which caused him to drop out of the game, had failed to explain the slump in his game.

Evans lost his money in "wheat," a rather legitimate game of chance. Babe Ruth lost his money and almost dropped his reputation by taking his fling on the ponies.

But Evans an dRuth apparently have learned that they can play only one game well.

After losing practically all the money he had and after he had gone on a big bust in baseball, Ruth came back.

The Swat King had his biggest year last season and was voted the most valuable player in baseball. Evans also may come back and do what he has been within a step of doing for three or four years.

Jack Dempsey has had many opportunities to be foolish with his money, but the heavyweight champion so far has proved himself almost as good in business as he is in the ring.

When he was training for the Firpo fight at White Sulphur Springs, Dempsey confided to a few sport writers that he had enough money buried away in good investments to keep him in ease for the rest of his days without touching a cent of the principal.

Dempsey has such a practical business head and he has had so much experience without money that it is hard to believe he is going to buy a stable and take a whirl at the racing game.

It has been tried before by other boxers—Johnny Dundee, for instance—and it has not been a success.

Racing is a hard game to beat, as an owner or a player, and Dempsey knows that.

Dempsey perhaps figures, however, that he is entitled to a little recreation and, if it does not cost him too much, he may find his investment in a stable profitable.

Being the heavyweight champion, Dempsey cannot enjoy himself or find the means of entertainment that ordinary individuals can secure any place. The novelty of Dempsey as an owner might wear off soon around the race tracks and he might be able to sit down to enjoy the sport without having a regiment of cops around to keep the crowd away from him.

SANTA ANA BUMPED BY PASADENA, 26-0

Locals Show Only Flash of Fighting Spirit in Last Quarter of Contest

Offering but a half-hearted resistance to the brilliant off tackle bucks and end runs of the fleet backfield of the foe, and seemingly devoid of the fighting spirit that has characterized its every game this season, Coach Ed Covington's jinx-pursued Santa Ana high school football team yesterday afternoon went down to defeat, 26 to 0, before the Pasadena high school eleven. The game was played at Pasadena.

With George Decker, "Chappie" Townsend and "Greedy" Williams, three regulars on the sidelines for various reasons, the Santa Ana team for three quarters showed only flashes of the courage that has won for itself the admiration of every fan in the Tri-County league.

Snapping out of its lethargy in the final period, Covington's men twice advanced the ball to within the Pasadena five-yard line but neither time could score. Santa Ana clearly outplayed the winners through the final quarter although the Crown City coach had rushed back into the fray all of his first team regulars whom he had replaced at the beginning of the half.

Dawson is Poly Star
Ray Dawson, guard, was the outstanding Poly player. Had all the local aggregation showed the fighting spirit of this young fellow the score would have been different. Captain Linsbard at center and Bill Luck, right halfback, also played well.

The versatility of the Pasadena attack swept the Santa Anans off their feet in the first few minutes. Receiving the opening kickoff the Crown City men marched straight down the field for a touchdown. A forward pass, Schmidt to Mettens, placed the ball on the five-yard mark from where Schmidt went across on an off tackle buck. Clark missed goal.

The second Pasadena score came but a few minutes later. The Bulldogs again marched down the field from the kickoff but fumbled on the locals' 20 yard line. "Fat" Sheets pouncing on the ball for Santa Ana, Luck attempted to kick out of danger but the ball went almost straight up in the air. Pasadena took the ball on the 25-yard line and in three plays scored, fullback Cockburn carrying it across. Clark kicked goal.

Go Between S. A. Ends
Quarterback Wright accounted for Pasadena's third touchdown after Ramsey and Schmidt had gone between the Santa Ana ends, who were playing too wide, and the tackles, for large gains. Clark again kicked goal.

Recovering a Pasadena fumble at midfield, the locals took the ball on short plunges by Le Bard and Luck, and a forward pass, Luck to Cook, to the Pasadena 32-yard line where it was first down. The Bulldogs bucked up and took the ball on downs one foot away from its goal line.

Captures Long Pass
Clark kicked out to the Pasadena 45-yard line. On the first play Cook threw a 35-yard forward pass to Mettens, who caught the ball with a clear field ahead of him. Before he could get in stride, however, he was dumped from behind on the Pasadena 5-yard line.

Le Bard made a yard off tackle but Luck's short pass to Cook fell incomplete over the goal line, giving Pasadena the ball on its own 20-yard mark. The game ended two minutes later with Santa Ana again working the ball to within scoring distance.

Bruise of Typewriter Caused Death to Man
PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 10.—A bruise suffered while operating a typewriter caused the death in the West Pennsylvania hospital here, according to the report at the Coroner's office of Professor James Boden Smith of California, 70, secretary and treasurer of the California State Normal school.

The aged educator was operating a typewriter last October 23, when in adjusting the spacing device he bruised his right thumb slightly. Later the right arm began to swell, and a physician found that it had become infected. Professor Smith then was brought to the hospital. Surgeons decided upon amputation of the arm. This measure was fruitless. Professor Smith had been a familiar figure at the State Normal School for a quarter of a century.

BRUIN VARSITY IS 2 TO 1 FAVORITE TO DEFEAT U. S. C TROJANS IN BIG CONTEST

BY HAROLD E. SWISHER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—Football enthusiasts from the north and from the south of California merged into one jostling mob here today as the eleven from the state University, at Berkeley, and the University of Southern California, of Los Angeles, awaited the referee's whistle.

Within the huge walls of the city's new coliseum, 70,000 howling fans, Los Angeles' largest football crowd, will this afternoon cheer for their favored team.

The Bears will trot out to the field this afternoon two to one favorites in the contest, but there will be thousands in the crowd who believe firmly that Coach Henderson's Trojans have more than a slender chance to break California's three years' triumph of undefeated, and gain the victory.

Andy Smith's team is in first class condition. Twenty-five strong, the blue and gold players have not a cripple or an invalid in their number.

Such good fortune does not lie with the Southern Californians. Gordon Campbell, the Trojans' capable fullback, is suffering from two fractured ribs and if he plays at all, will do so with his side well bandaged. Newman, another U. S. C. star, is a tonsillitis victim, while others of the Henderson crowd are temporarily on the shelf.

The Bears will undoubtedly play their usual kicking game, waiting for the breaks and taking them when they come. The Trojans are expected to depend chiefly on their speed.

The Southland, even though it should meet defeat, will draw some solace from the fact that many of the state university's best men are from the south.

Leading off with Captain Don Nichols, of Pomona, California players who live down this way include Bill Blewett, star halfback, from Los Angeles; Hogsy Evans, quarterback, of Long Beach; Horace, center, Pasadena; Beam, fullback, Pasadena; and B. B. Venice, Spaulding, halfback, Bakersfield, and several others, either on the first team or in the reserve.

The lineup for today's game, officially unannounced, was being widely debated. No two followers of the teams agreed on the eleven men most likely to start. The following players have a good chance to be on the field at the kickoff:

Coming Attractions at Local Theatres

"THE ETERNAL THREE" AT TEMPLE TOMORROW
 If three is a lucky number, then Marshall Neilan's "The Eternal Three," which comes to the Temple theater tomorrow for three days, is certain of meeting with approval. There are three words in the title of "The Eternal Three," which was started filming on the third day of January and finished on the third day of April, involving 63 days of actual camera work. Handling the cast are three players who are playing with Neilan for the third time—Hobart Bosworth, Claire Windsor and Raymond Griffith. There are three Irishmen in the cast—Tom Gallery, George Cooper and Helen Lynch. For Alice Francis, it was the third successive time he had portrayed a doctor, and from that characterization he went with King Vidor in "Three Wise Fools." Three of the fair members of the cast have birthdays in April—Claire Windsor, Helen Lynch and Maryon Ayer. Bessie Love worked in three pictures at the same time during the last few weeks of the filming of "The Eternal Three."

LAUDER'S SONGS NOT ALL NEW, IS CLAIM

Sir Harry Lauder, famous singer and delineator of homely characters who will appear at the high school auditorium here Thursday, returns to the United States, with a bunch of new songs, but it is doubtful whether his newer song characterizations will win any greater popularity than many of his old-time offerings. His press representative, W. D. Coxey, said today:

"Wee Hoose 'Mang' th' Heather," which has not been included in the Lauder program for several years, and which has been revived for the current season, stands in a class alone among popular Scottish songs," Coxey said.

"I Love a Lassie" is another Lauder song that lingers in the memory of those who have heard it sung—and acted—in the Scottish minstrel's inimitable way. Although, prior to the present season, he had not sung it in the United States for several seasons, except on special occasions, the records have continued to give it a whistling popularity, and o' nights the air of many a quiet community is enlivened by the lilting melody of "I love a lassie, a bonnie, bonnie lassie."

She's as pure as the lily in the dell.
 She's as sweet as the heather.
 The bonnie, bonnie heather—
 Mary, ma Scotch Bluebell!

"It will be good news to the Lauder fans that the comedian has revived this popular song. Another old favorite, "Roamin' in th' Gloamin'" is also among the revivals.

"Among the later songs is a merry melody entitled "Singing is the Thing to Make You Cheery," and "Bella the Belle o' Dunoon." They have already won American approval. These old and new songs, with others, will be offered in generous measure during Lauder's local engagement."

TOMORROW'S ATTRACTIONS
WEST END—"Three Wise Fools," with Eleanor Boardman.
TEMPLE—"The Eternal Three," with Hobart Bosworth and Claire Windsor.
YOST—Vaudeville and "The Doll's House," with Nazimova.
PRINCESS—"The Wild Party," with Gladys Walton.

"IF WINTER COMES" CLOSING AT TEMPLE TONIGHT
 In the screen version of "If Winter Comes" now showing at the Temple, there are seventeen characters that stand out with the clearness of pieces of sculpture. All these characters so cleverly created in A. S. M. Hutchinson's book, have been cast with such care and skill by Harry Millarde, the director, that each one can be recognized instantly when first shown on the screen.

Added to this is the important fact that every scene has been taken in the authentic environment described by the author and that the story has been followed with absolute fidelity. As a consequence readers of the book will find that none of the details of the plot are missing from the picture, and that the emotional power and convincing sincerity of the Hutchinson work are given a new and more gripping effect.

"FAIR LADY" COMING TO YOST TONIGHT
 Rex Beach, the author, speaking of "Fair Lady" booked for the Yost theater tonight tells some interesting things about the origin of the story from which this new screen drama was made.

"The story from which 'Fair Lady' was produced was built on a basic foundation of actual facts," said Beach, "and on that account I believe it has a particularly human appeal. The story was originally published as a novel under the title of 'The Net,' which referred to the police methods of rounding up the band of criminals with which the story deals, but in adapting the novel for screen presentation so much new material was added that the new title 'Fair Lady' was considered more appropriate for the film version."

"Many of the events shown on the screen actually took place twenty years ago in the city of New Orleans, which at that time suffered more than any other American city through the laxity of immigration laws."

GLADYS WALTON PICTURE AT PRINCESS TOMORROW
 Gladys Walton, the clever little Universal star, so well established in the film world as a portray of "flapper" roles, is the center of interest in one of the cleverest farce comedies of her screen career, in "The Wild Party," which comes to the Princess tomorrow. She plays the part of a society reporter who writes a story that brings about a $100,000 libel suit, and a marriage. The story was written by Marion Orth and directed by Herbert Blache.

"THREE WISE FOOLS" OPENS RUN TOMORROW
 A photoplay that has angles of appeal for every picture-goer is King Vidor's First Goldwyn production, "Three Wise Fools," adapted by the director from Austin Strong's successful stage play produced by John Golden and Winchell Smith. It will be the attraction at the West End theater for four days, beginning tomorrow. The picture is a blending of charming comedy, romance, reality and spectacle. It retains in full the quaint comedy of the play, but develops and strengthens the dramatic story and depicts in detail some episodes that were but hinted at, or which took place off the stage, in the original.

Eleanor Boardman, fresh from her triumph in "Souls for Sale," is featured in the feminine lead, Claude Gillingwater acts the role of Findley, which he played with such conspicuous success on the stage. William H. Crane is cast as Judge Trumbull and Alec Francis as Dr. Gaunt. John Salapala acts the role of Sydney's father, while Brinsley Shaw lends a sinister quality to Benny the Duck. The flash-back sequence showing the three wise fools as youths, has Craig Biddle, Jr., in Gillingwater's part; Creighton Hale in that of William H. Crane; and Raymond Hatton in Alec Francis' part.

NAZIMOVA PICTURE AT YOST TOMORROW
 Of the three little children who appear with Nazimova in "A Doll's House," perhaps the most interesting is Philippe De Lacy, four years old, who was found in a cellar in France during the world war and brought to this country by Edith De Lacy, a nurse attached to the Women's Overseas Hospital. Miss De Lacy adopted the lad when he was eighteen months old, securing a deed of gift from the French authorities. This pathetic little figure has since become rather a notable young actor, and the majority of the movie fans will recall him as the child who appeared with Geraldine Farrar. It is said little Philippe never has done better work, however, than in "A Doll's House," in which he will appear with Nazimova at the Yost theater tomorrow only.

A PUZZLE A DAY

Take away two from five, and leave four. It sounds like a mathematical impossibility—but it is quite possible, if you employ ingenuity instead of arithmetic.

Yesterday's answer: BOASTER, OBSCURE, SCOTCH, TERTIAN, ENTERTAIN, RESENTS.

In the completed "word square," the seven words: boaster, obscure, asserts, sceptre, tertian, entreat, and resents, may all be read from left to right or from top to bottom.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Evolve kind thoughts which never fail
To ease the hardships on life's trail."

The thoughts you voice may be the gauge
That prints your status on life's page."

ARMISTICE DAY

Tomorrow is the anniversary of the end of the most terrific, the most terrible, the most devastating thing into which human beings ever entered.

Looking back now to the World War we do honor to the men who gave their lives in the service of the Stars and Stripes, to the men who suffered, to the men who were in the service willing to do their part, even to death.

Looking the world over today, we have no regrets because of our entrance into the World War. Had not America entered it, today this land of ours might have been under the heel of the Kaiser. The Germans were on the way to victory; America reached the front in time to prevent victory for Germany.

Looking forward, on this occasion let us anew pledge ourselves and all that is ours to the cause of freedom. We proclaim our allegiance to America, to its flag, to its institutions, to this, our government, the best government on earth. On this occasion we pay tribute to the memory of men and women whose lives were given in sacrifice to the ideals of this land and to the protection of this country against the threatened domination of a foreign foe. On this occasion we pay tribute to the men and women of Orange county who served—our tribute is to those who live as well as to those who died.

FATHERS AND SONS' WEEK

We welcome Fathers and Sons' week. It is with much satisfaction that we have read announcements showing that various churches and clubs of Santa Ana are to hold fathers and sons' meetings.

The purpose of those who instituted and fostered the fathers and sons' week idea was to further friendly relations between fathers and sons. It is lamentably true that in many families no effort is made by the father to interest himself in the affairs of his son; there is no bond of sympathy, no understanding, no reason at all why the son when in trouble should go to his father.

We believe that in Orange county the ideal home exists. The average of home relationships and the strength of family ties in Orange county is high. But happy families can be made happier when father and son are brought closer together, when they stand toward each other in the relation of pals, with the son holding for his father the respect a son should have for his father and the father deserving the respect due him.

Somebody said once that Bismark could be silent in seven languages at once. That's nothing, President Coolidge could probably be silent in all the languages into which the Bible has been translated.

JOIN IN THIS EFFORT

Shortly, the residents of Santa Ana are to have the opportunity of serving humanity as well as an opportunity of serving their community. The two opportunities are joined in the effort that is to be put forth to raise money for the completion of the fund that is to be used for building a modern hospital in Santa Ana.

This campaign is not for contributions; it is a campaign for subscriptions to stock. The hospital is incorporated under the laws of the state, and the purpose of those who are most intimately concerned in securing the institution for this city is to put it on a paying basis. They believe that in a city the size of Santa Ana a good hospital can be operated so that it will pay dividends and thus be self-sustaining. Stock dividends will be limited to 7 per cent.

The proposition, however, is a great deal more than a business proposition, though it is a business proposition. This city has no hospital of a modern type. That statement alone is argument enough in favor of building a modern hospital.

Lives are lost and great suffering is endured every year in Santa Ana because it has no modern hospital. Let us repeat that:

LIVES ARE LOST AND GREAT SUFFERING IS ENDURED EVERY YEAR IN SANTA ANA BECAUSE IT HAS NO MODERN HOSPITAL.

And it may be that the life of some of your loved ones will be in jeopardy at some time within the next five years unless this hospital is built.

So this drive comes very close to the homes of all of us.

Are the Filipinos fit for self-government? Well, Governor General Wood seems to be having about as much trouble with that Philippine legislature as any American President has with any American Congress.

FRENCH OBSTRUCTION

It must be patent to everybody by this time that Premier Poincare, speaking for France, is determined to hamstring the reparation conference. He accepted "in principle" because, with Great Britain and America urging it and other allied countries seconding the motion, it would have been embarrassing to give a blunt refusal. But he has followed up his technical acceptance with a string of reservations and objections which leave no doubt as to his purpose.

"Let them get together and talk about reparation," he says in effect, "provided they don't take up any of the factors affecting reparation. France will tolerate no change whatever from the established reparation settlement and no interference whatever with her program of collection."

What that program is, becomes increasingly clear. It is almost impossible any longer to avoid the conclusion that France has given up the idea of collecting the German indemnity, and instead is determined to cut Germany to pieces and swallow the choicest pieces. Certainly her present procedure makes payment impossible, and she is lending every effort to the partition of Germany and the extension of French territory and industrial resources at Germany's expense.

This is one kind of reparation, and it can be readily understood how a Frenchman can justify it to his own conscience, after the tragic losses Germany inflicted on his own country. But such action was never contemplated by the peace treaty agreed to by Germany and signed by all the Allies, and it is surely not calculated to promote the welfare of Europe and the peace of the world.

It may be worth while to go ahead, just the same, with the establishment of an international commission to discuss reparation. The most important result will be publicity for the facts involved. Those facts are of importance to every country, including the United States. And if it appears from an impartial review of the situation that France is acting wrongly or unwisely, even Poincare may not be able to stand against world opinion.

Lest We Forget

Stockton Independent

It seems appropriate that the American Legion whose first consideration always has been the welfare of the disabled soldiers, should in their observance of the signing of the Armistice set aside the first day—"Forget-Me-Not"—as the day in which all Americans are asked to turn their thoughts to those heroic American boys, who came home to us from European battlefields shattered in body and nerves.

To those of us who had the good fortune to have been blessed with health and strength to work, the five years since the signing of the Armistice have passed all too swiftly, but what an eternity these years must have seemed to many of the boys, who young in years, have experienced great mental and bodily suffering and who have little else to anticipate in the future.

"Forget-Me-Not" Day ought to be one of the most sacred in all our calendar and every organization and every individual should give every assistance to the American Legion in making the day one that will result in the greatest tribute we have ever paid to the World War Veterans. Let the day be one in which we give our thoughts, our time and our money to those to whom we owe so great a debt.

Sound Economic Advice

Stockton Independent

We frequently have said that the glib talk of the elimination of the middleman as a cure for the evils of farm produce marketing is an illusory remedy. That is to say, present "middlemen" may be eliminated, but the services they perform must be rendered. Co-operative marketing associations may extend their scope to the intermediary functions and processes between production and consumption, but it will be found best in the great majority of cases to use the established channels and agencies of trade. The grower's protection lies in the ability through organization to sell advantageously both as to price and time.

We are glad to see this view supported by so eminent an authority on co-operative marketing as Aaron Sapiro of California, counsel for the American Farm Bureau Federation. Addressing the Chamber of Commerce at Omaha the other day, he said:

"The characteristic of farming is individual production. Because the farmer produces as an individual, he was led to sell as an individual, but marketing is a group problem. You must teach the farmer to pool his products on a commodity basis. That will enable the farmer to meet the group problem of finance and marketing, as a group, even while he produces as an individual.

Co-operative associations have learned to market, with regard to time and place. We are not trying that baby stuff of selling producer to consumer. That can't be done. We need the middleman. We simply control the flow into the absorbing market, making intelligent use of the middleman.

San Bernardino Telegram

Among "the seven new real estate transactions and building projects announced for Los Angeles and vicinity yesterday," as recited by the always entertaining Los Angeles Examiner are "expansion of Santa Fe shops at San Bernardino, to cost $2,800,000, new six story hotel building for San Pedro to represent an investment of $500,000, and $150,000 apartment house to be built at Long Beach."

Evidently the Examiner has not heard of it but several building projects were launched in San Francisco yesterday, and a gentleman in Sacramento is earnestly considering the erection of a garage.

In a communication in this paper Monday, J. S. Edwards made a valuable suggestion about a new road from the desert, down through Big Bear Valley, to any terminal point hereabouts. Mr. Edwards called attention to the fact that the proposed cut-off from Amboy, to lead down to Banning and which Riverside county is interested in, can be used doubtless, for some distance from Amboy west, so the expense would not be prohibitive from such point on the Amboy-Banning road to Bear Valley. Once in Bear Valley the tourists could take any route out they desire. Surely the opportunity to get into the fine timber would be appreciated by many traveling westward, and to put Bear Valley on the overland route would be a considerable help to that section.—Redland Facts.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

SWOLLEN VEINS—PILES

In a previous article I talked about the varicose veins that are now so prevalent. I warned parents and others about the danger of tight garters. Tight garters mean that the blood in the veins gets dammed back and these veins become swollen, thickened, and twisted, until sometimes they break down and a nasty ulcer results.

Now these veins can be dammed back anywhere in the body, always by the same cause—pressure. At the lower end of intestine where the waste matter is expelled from the body, there are little bunches of veins which get thickened and swollen. They are called piles or hemorrhoids.

What causes the trouble?

The same as anywhere in the body—pressure. Now there is a pretty well-established connection between a sluggish liver and piles. The first thought with most physicians is to correct this liver condition.

But ordinary constipation, allowing large masses of waste matter to remain in the lower bowel too long, is the most frequent cause of this trouble. These knotted veins are usually inside the bowel, from which they may protrude after any straining. At times they are partly inside, and partly out.

Now the real attack is a mighty painful thing and causes very much discomfort. But one attack does not necessarily spell operation, so the wise thing is to get busy and prevent further attacks.

How?

By ways remembering their cause—pressure. Do not allow yourself ever to get constipated. Plenty of figs, dates, and other fruits, with bending and twisting exercises. Perhaps a little paraffin or other oil will be necessary until you get your liver doing its full work by means of exercise.

Don't sit on damp or hard surfaces. If you have a sitting job, or even a standing job, where you retain the same position for hours at a stretch you are up against a stiff proposition. It is this lack of movement of the body that is really the cause of the trouble. There is a regular "stasis" or stoppage of the intestine. So get after your liver, watch your intestine, and you may never have further attacks.

Should they assume a chronic form with great pain, tenderness, and severe shock, you would be wise to consult your physician.

GOOD-NIGHT, LADIES

Good-night, ladies!
Good-night, ladies!
Good-night, ladies!
We're going to leave you now.

Merrily we roll along,
Roll along, roll along,
Merrily we roll along,
O'er the dark blue sea.

Farewell, ladies!
Farewell, ladies!
Farewell, ladies!
We're going to leave you now.

Sweet dreams, ladies!
Sweet dreams, ladies!
Sweet dreams, ladies!
We're going to leave you now.

With the exception of the singing of spirituals and plantation songs by the negroes in the south, there has been no more true folk singing in America than that of undergraduates in our colleges.

Even in the generation of our fathers, when many men regarded music as not sufficiently masculine for their taste, the colleges enjoyed their close harmony in congenial surroundings. This was the age of "Who Killed Cock-Robin?" "There's Music in the Air," "A Tavern in the Town" and other rousing ditties.

Author Unknown

From this period comes "Good-Night, Ladies," the authorship of which is now lost in the mists of years. Possibly no song of the people calls up more memories of good times than this joyous serenade, and in the form of a good-night waltz. It probably will continue to be sung as long as there is youth and springtime.

Worth While Verse

MOUNTAINS

Holding night on their shoulders,
The mountains wait for day,
And no man is so patient
Or so wise as they.
They have seen men come and go
As the seasons do with flowers and snow.
They have no preferential faiths,
Choosing what they will think or feel.
The mountains are an honest folk
With nothing to conceal.
Theirs is the high philosophy
That winds and stars can feel and see.
Water, wind and fire have
Voices to speak to men,
But if the hills can hear us,
They never answer when
We ask them how they came to be
So strong in their tranquility.
I have lived long with mountains,
I know them all the year,
Paths that lead through laurel green
And gray cliffs rising sheer.
I know where hidden fountains are,
And where the landslides leave a scar.
The mountains wait for morning,
They see it far away,
Eastward, across the river,
Come the signs of day,
Like some scarf of amber light
Land upon the throat of night.
The mountains wear the morning
As they wear gold and brown
And scarlet in October,
Or let the snow fall down
And shine under the winter sky.
While dark winds pile the white drifts high.
Holding night on their shoulders
As they might hold a cloud,
They let the freshets hurry,
And wild winds cry aloud,
But mountains never seem to care
What comes or stays or passes there.

Using Coolidge's Name
To Attack Johnson

Sacramento Bee

In various parts of California are now being formed political clubs for the ostensible purpose of promoting the presidential candidacy of Coolidge.

At every meeting of each club the president is lauded to the skies; his greatness extolled, and it is set forth in the most fulsome fashion that he is the only man in the country fit or able to lead the Republican party to victory next year.

The central organization behind these local clubs is well supplied with funds; for it is publishing in Los Angeles a monthly journal, which carries not a line of advertising but whose cost of printing and circulation must be high.

Californians are not in doubt as to the motives and purposes of all this activity.

It is not that these men love Calvin Coolidge, but that they are moved by a desperate and venomous hatred of Hiram W. Johnson.

In their hearts of hearts, they care not for the president of the United States; whether he or some other candidate is nominated at the next Republican convention means nothing to them so long as they can injure California's senior senator.

Coolidge is a mere stalking horse.
Behind his name stalks the poisonous determination to destroy not only the senator politically, but to annihilate the policies and laws for which he stands in California and in the nation.

What these schemers propose to do now under the cover of supporting Calvin Coolidge is to nominate and elect to the Republican national convention a delegation which will be purged of every progressive tendency; who will support a reactionary candidate, whoever he may be, which will attempt to write into the Republican national platform planks that would be approved by the international bankers and the international idealists as well.

For the editor of this so-called California Republican, the organ of this movement, is none other than Ralph Arnold, the head and front of the Hoover movement in California in 1920, and back of him are all the interests and individuals who have selfish and even a monetary interest in destroying Progressive Republicanism in California.

In the last issue of this journal
an article laudatory of Friend W.
Richardson's administration begins
as follows:

The job-hunter and the office seeker, after faring extremely well in California for a decade, came suddenly to grief when Friend W. Richardson became governor.

Yet that decade includes the greater part of the administration of Hiram W. Johnson. It includes that period when California was placed in the forefront of the progressive states of the nation. It includes that period when more humanitarian laws were passed than ever before, and more done by California's state government for the ordinary man and woman than by any other state government
in the nation.

And that period is now slandered
as the period of the "office hunter and the job seeker."

NO. 15—THE TALE OF A COTTONTAIL

Down in Dixie Land the Twins came to a field that looked as though there had been a snow storm.

"Why, it's cotton!" said Nancy in surprise. "I always thought cotton grew in blue paper boxes laughing at his own joke.

"You two're jest lak two other voice, and turning the Twins behind an old colored man.

"Will you tell us about them?"
asked Nick quickly.

"Sholy! Sholy!" said the old man kindly. "I'll tell you 'bout Mistah Rabbit an' Mistah Fox tradin' tails."

"Once upon a time Mistah Rabbit met Mistah Fox takin' a walk."

"What you all doin', Mistah Rabbit?" asked Mistah Fox, polite like.

"Oh, jes' takin' a walk to exercise my tail," sez Mistah Rabbit.
"I'm in those days he had a sho nuf fine long bushy tail!"

"That's funny," sez Mistah Fox.
"That's ezactly what I wuz doin', and he set down hard, fer true as I tell you, he had no tail at all an'
he didn't want Mistah Rabbit to see."

"Say," sez he, "I saw a queer thing today, Mistah Rabbit."

"What wuz that?" asks Mistah Rabbit.

"Why I saw a tree with cotton growing on it," sez Mistah Fox.

"Oh, go 'long, yo nevah did," sez Mistah Rabbit. "No tree ever that disaster will again overtake

A Query

By Berton Braley

You say your taxes are too high,
But do you vote?
About extravagance you sigh,
But do you vote?

How long, you wall, must we en-

This state of things which keeps us poor?

How long, I do not know, I'm sure;
But do you vote?

The lights are bad, the streets a mess;
But do you vote?

Your indignation you express,
But do you vote?
You say the bosses rule the show,
That graft is reaching high and low,

And doubtless all you say is so,
But—do you vote?

You growl at rotten politics,
But do you vote?
You howl at bosses and their tricks,

But do you vote?
You say, oh Decent Citizen,
(We've heard you, time and time again)

"We want things run by Business

But—do you vote?

Unless you do (I wonder, DO you?)
You've got just what is coming to us!
